MOTOR NOTES: LIGHTING PROBLEMS.

(BY OUR MOTORING CORRESPONDENT.)

I know of nothing more tiring than a long drive on a foggy night. Many owner drivers refuse to take out a car when there is the slightest sign of mist; but there are others—doctors, for instance—who must be abroad in all sorts of weather, and to them a fog certainly is an affliction.

The first accident I ever had was due to a mist. On a star-lit night I was driving along the road from Newtownbutler to Lisnaskea, Co. Fermanagh, when I reached a point where a mist rising from a small lake enveloped me like a blanket, and I lost all sense of direction. The next moment the car was in the ditch and £20 worth of damage had been done. Since then I have driven hundreds of miles through fog in safety, but I must confess that I never have done it with any sense of comfort. The nerve strain is too great.

Use of Ochre.

Visibility in fog can be improved by smearing the glass of the head-lights with yellow ochre; but the best safeguard is to use a spot light directed on the near side kerb or grass verge and to drive with care at a slow speed. Much, of course, depends on the kind of spot light used. A friend of mine swears by one attached to the wind-screen, on the driver's side. This lamp throws a beam of light across the bonnet and to the near side of the road. To my mind it is open to serious objection on the ground that, while the oblique beam illuminates the roadside, it is on a level with the driver's eyes, and, therefore, increases the density of the white wall in front of him. It is of little service to him to know that he is on his own side and is in no risk of being ditched if he cannot see objects on the road in front of him.

The spot light advocated by Captain Fryer, of the Automobile Association, is, I think, the best. It is attached to the near side dumb iron by a swivelling bracket of an auxiliary side lamp, preferably wired separately to the batteries, and is operated by a tumbler switch on the dash, immediately in front of the driver. The beam of this light, of course, is quite below the level of the driver's eyes and is directed straight along the road.

Dazzle.

But a device to minimise the dangers from fog is not the only thing that we need for comfortable night driving. The dazzle problem still has to be solved, not only in the interest of the motorist, but of the pedestrian. The R.A.C. and A.A. both agree that "blacking out" is an unsafe procedure, as it may easily happen that when driving with the head-lights switched off a collision may occur with a pedestrian or a cyclist in the suddenly created darkness. Lamps that can be "dipped" reduce the trouble to other road users, but it is asking too much of the patient motorist to go to the expense of this equipment unless he is going to get something more than mere courtesy in return.

A plan which has much to commend it is to fit a more powerful bulb to the near side front lamp and to rely on it alone when passing traffic. It gives a safe light which shows the side of the road for many yards ahead, and certainly will not dazzle approaching drivers.

All the same, it cannot be regarded as a solution of the problem.

Nearer Solution.

There is one consolation, and that is that we are moving towards a solution, although slowly. Nearly fifteen years ago the Royal Automobile Club began to collect and collate information with that end in view. An anti-dazzle device, indeed, was put on the market in 1909, but it was a crude affair and far from efficient. After the war a departmental committee dealt exhaustively with the matter, and the importance of securing some method of measurement which could be standardised and used in discussions and by inventors was brought to the front.

In this connection the Technical Department of the R.A.C. has prepared a publication which indicates the work it has done in the direction of encouraging the development of anti-dazzle devices. Mr. Hugh H. Gregory, head of the Club's Technical Department, evolved a method of measuring and testing head-lamps, using what is now known as the "standard disc." This system of test has been standardised by the British Engineering Standards Association, and is used in the report of the Ministry of Transport Departmental Committee for describing the recommended desiderata for anti-dazzle motor car head-lights.

Using this method, the Club has carried out a large number of tests, the results obtained being published in the same manner as for the Club's official certified trials. The most important of the figures have been summarised in order to be more easily comparable. It is not suggested that finality is by any means reached, but it can be said that, whereas in 1920 there was no lamp possessing any real anti-dazzle properties, in 1924 there are several which can claim to be reasonably effective. The Club has collected this information into one volume in order that lamp manufacturers and others interested may see what has already been achieved.

The Club's tests show that it is easy to obtain with a given candle-power long range with a narrow beam or a short range with a broad beam. The difficulty is to get a long range with a wide beam.

A Trip to France.

The Touring Department of the R.A.C. report that intending motoring visitors to France have been perturbed by the recent French decree making it necessary for all foreigners whose stay in France exceeds fifteen days to report to the nearest police office to their abode, to obtain a card of identity, permitting them to be free from various penalties, which would otherwise be applied to them for failure to comply with the decree. If these regulations are not modified, so far as motoring visitors to France are concerned, the nuisance will, it seems, act as a deterrent, and France in consequence will lose a certain amount of revenue from those visitors. The Royal Automobile Club is in communication with the authorities in Paris in the hope that they will realise the unnecessary hardship this decree imposes upon motoring visitors and simplify the regulations for them.

BEAUTIFYING THE HOME.

THE chief way—at this time of year—to make our homes beautiful and attractive is by growing bulbs for the house. It is so easy, so cheap, and so eminently satisfactory if successful!

Anyone can be successful if the following plan is followed:—

Buy good, sound bulbs (rare varieties are not necessary). The best are daffodils of all kinds, tulips, Roman hyacinths, other hyacinths, narcissi and crocuses of different colours. Snow

Watch your Gums — bleeding a sign of trouble

A Stappers mine the enemy's defences, so gum decay tunnels through the normal gum tissue and produces teeth decay in its more painful form. The pyorrhoea germ attacks it in more insidious way. They recede. They shrink and age the mouth. Gum inadequacy is present. The teeth loosen. Also Pyorrhoea pockets form, in which bacteria which drain into the system and cause many organic diseases of mid-life.

Your people may already be victims. Protect them from this Pyorrhoea; but Forhan's For the Gums positively prevents Pyorrhoea if used — time and usual care-and-only.

Forhan's For the Gums hardens the gums, invigorates the gumsthatbug the teeth and hold them firm. It contains the fundamentals of tooth hygiene, in fact. And all this while you are cleansing your teeth scientifically. If gum shrinkage has already set in, begin using Forhan's For the Gums, and consult a dentist.

SECONDARY EDUCATION IN ULSTER.

The annual general meeting of the Ulster Head Mistresses' Association has passed the following resolution:—

"That, while recognising the good-will and sympathy of the Northern Ministry, as shown in its desire to frame a pension scheme for secondary teachers, we view with alarm the future prospects of secondary education in Northern Ireland if such a scheme is the best that can be produced. The serious risk is run of becoming, as far as educational matters are concerned, a self-contained area. No intercourse with teachers across the water will be possible, for there will be nothing to attract them to Northern Ireland, but much to induce our own best teachers to seek more favourable conditions elsewhere. We fully endorse the recommendations for amendment of the draft scheme of pensions for secondary teachers submitted to the Ministers of Education and Finance by the Committee of the Joint Associations of Secondary Teachers."

AUSTRALIAN WOOL RECORDS.

At the wool sales held at Sydney yesterday 20,729 bales were offered, of which 10,455 were sold. Private sales consisted of 2,293 bales. There was a good selection, including some super wools, for which there was particularly keen American and French demand, and for which extreme rates, beating previous records, were realised. There was brisk local Japanese and Yorkshire competition for average wools, the prices for all descriptions, excepting inferior, being on a par to 5 per cent. higher. Comebacks and crossbreds were unaltered, with the tendency in sellers favour. Greasy merino realised 49½d., a record for the Sydney market.

NEW ZEALAND WOOL PRICES

Prices soared at the first Wellington wool sale of the season yesterday. The number of bales offered was 7,300. America took all the best Romney and cross-bred. Up to 38½d. was paid for a fine line of Southdown. Prices compared with March show the following advances:—Half-bred, 2d. to 4d.; fine cross-breds, 4d. to 5½d.; medium, coarse and low, 5d. to 6d.; bellies and pieces, 4d. to 5d.; locks, 4d.

HOW TO SOFTEN CORNS AND CALLOUSES.

Pick corns right out, roots and all. Soften callouses so they are easily scraped off with the dull edge of a knife. The oxygenated foothath produced by a handful of Reudel Bath Saltrates in a gallon of plain hot water is all you need. This soon dissolves and extracts the oil and sebaceous matter from hardened, callo-ized, and "corny" skin, leaving it soft as fresh putty. Has no effect on sound, healthy skin. All chemists keep Reudel Bath Saltrates in stock put up in packets of convenient sizes and at very low prices. Get a trial supply to-night. Save the guarantee enclosed. If you are dissatisfied in any way with the results, the empty packet is returnable for a full and immediate refund of your money. No questions. No red tape.

YESTERDAY'S CASES IN THE COURTS.

BARGE OWNER'S ACTION.

AN APPEAL WITHDRAWN.

(Before the Chief Justice, Mr. Justice O'Connor, and Mr. Justice Fitzgibbon.)

It was announced that the appeal by the defendants in the case of Michael Donovan, barge-owner, Wexford, against the City of Cork Steam Packet Company from a decision of Mr. Justice Meredith was withdrawn. The action, it appeared, had been brought by the plaintiff for damages in respect of injuries to his barge as the result of a collision with one of the defendants' steamers; and Mr. Justice Meredith gave judgment for the plaintiff, directing an inquiry as to damages.

Mr. Phelps (instructed by Messrs. T. and D. Fitzgerald), for the plaintiff, mentioned that the appeal had been withdrawn, and notice to that effect had been served.

Mr. Fergus O'Connor, with whom were Mr. Jellett, K.C., and Mr. Lardner, K.C., for the defendants, said that that was so.

Mr. Phelps then asked for an order dismissing the appeal, with costs.

The Court granted the application.

LONGFORD FARMER'S ASSETS.

DISPUTE ABOUT DEPOSIT RECEIPT.

An appeal was heard which had been brought by the plaintiff in the case of Michael Fayne, farmer, of Cullentra, Co. Longford, against Charles Martin, farmer, of Blenavoher, Lanesborough, Co. Longford, from a judgment of Mr. Justice Meredith (in the Chancery Court) dismissing the action.

Serjeant Hanna, Mr. Jellett, K.C., and Mr. Hughes (instructed by Messrs. Hannan and O'Brien) appeared for the plaintiffs; and Mr. Fetherstonhaugh, K.C., and Mr. Geoghegan (instructed by Mr. T. W. Delany) for the defendant.

The action was brought in connection with the estate of Peter Donlon, deceased, a small farmer in the district, for a declaration that £180 standing on deposit receipt in the Lanesborough branch of the Northern Bank in the joint names of the deceased and the defendant formed portion of the assets of the deceased at the date of his death on the 17th August, 1922; and for an order directing the defendant to hand it over to the plaintiff; and also for a declaration, with a similar order, that a sum of £100 (portion of a sum of £220) which was standing on deposit receipt in the same bank in the name of the deceased until shortly before his death, and which was paid by the bank to the defendant, formed portion of the assets of the deceased.

In defence a denial of the averments of the plaintiff in the statement of claim, and a statement that at the request of the deceased the manager of the bank placed £100 (part of £220 on deposit receipt in the joint names of the deceased and defendant) on deposit receipt in the joint names mentioned, the deceased having surrendered the old deposit receipt and expressed his desire to have the new deposit receipt issued in order that the beneficial interest in the £180 should pass to the defendant upon the death of the deceased. The £101 12s. 3d., balance of the old deposit receipt, it was further stated, was handed by the defendant to the deceased, who applied the money to his own purposes, but the defendant was not aware of the manner in which it was applied. The deceased, who was over eighty years of age, left the amounts of the deposit receipts, a farm of land and stock. He left his farm to the plaintiff, whom he also made executor and residuary legatee under his will.

The question with which the appeal was concerned related, shortly, to the two sums of £100 and £180, the proceeds of a deposit receipt for £220, money lodged in the Northern Bank at Lanesborough, the claim of the plaintiff with regard to the £180 being something in the nature of a donatio mortis causa. The evidence in the case, as stated, was rather complicated and somewhat conflicting.

The hearing has not concluded.

A TAR BLISTER.

DAMAGES AGAINST PEMBROKE COUNCIL.

(Before Mr. Justice O'Shaughnessy.)

An action was heard, in which Mrs. Ellen Kilroy, of 9 Shaw's Cottages, Sandymount, sued the Pembroke Urban District Council for damages for personal injuries caused, as she alleged, by the negligence of the defendants in the maintenance and repair of a public road in the district.

The defence was a denial of negligence and a plea that anything that happened was not the fault of the defendants; that there was contributory negligence, and that if the road was dangerous it was owing to reasonable wear and tear.

It appeared that on the 2nd October, 1923, the plaintiff, when driving along Claremont road, was thrown from the trap, the pony having slipped and fallen on a large blister of tar on the road, which recently had been tarred by the defendants. The plaintiff's head was injured and her arm was fractured in two places.

The jury found in favour of the plaintiff, and assessed the damages at £50.

Judgment was entered accordingly.

Mr. Dockrell, senior counsel, and Mr. Tobias (instructed by Messrs. Keating and Keating), appeared for the plaintiff; and Mr. Lardner, K.C., Mr. W. G. Shannon, senior counsel, and Mr. H. J. Moloney (instructed by Messrs. D. and T. Fitzgerald) for the defendants.

ACTION AGAINST FARMERS.

GUARANTORS FOR CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETY.

(Before Mr. Justice O'Shaughnessy.)

An action was listed, in which the Irish Agricultural Wholesale Society, Ltd., of Thomas street, Dublin, claimed £905 15s. from R. J. Golden, Luke Snee, Patrick Henry, and James Gorman, farmers, of Tubbercurry, on foot of a joint and several guarantee for goods sold by the plaintiffs to the defendants as members of the Tubbercurry Co-operative Society, Co. Sligo, during the year 1920.

The defendants had filed a defence denying that they gave the guarantee; that the plaintiffs supplied the goods on foot of the guarantee; and pleading alternatively that if the goods were sold to them the Tubbercurry Society had satisfied the claim before the action was brought.

When the case was called,

Mr. W. G. Shannon, senior counsel, with whom was Mr. Conor Maguire (instructed by Mr. M. J. Howley), for the defendants, said that his Lordship would not be troubled with the case, as the defendants would consent to judgment. This guarantee was made as far back as 1920, and these poor people would sign anything that they were asked to sign, without appreciating what they were doing.

Mr. Justice O'Shaughnessy expressed the hope that the plaintiffs would try to lighten the burden on these unfortunate men, as they were in the society trying to advance themselves, and the country, too.

Mr. Costello, with whom was Mr. Serjeant Hanna, K.C. (instructed by Messrs. John T. Doyle and Co.), for the plaintiffs, said that his Lordship's remarks would be borne in mind.

Mr. Doyle, solicitor, said that before any proceedings were instituted by the Irish Wholesale Agricultural Society from six to twelve months were occupied with correspondence. There was something like £200,000 outstanding in the country.

Mr. Justice O'Shaughnessy said that unless all, high and low, put their shoulders to the wheel this country would be in a bad way.

BANK AND DEBENTURE HOLDER.

A CHARGING ORDER.

(Before Mr. Justice Hemphill.)

In the matter of Daniel O'Mahony Leahy v. the Queen's Theatre (Dublin), Ltd., consolidated with the action of John Oloff McCall against the same defendants.

Mr. Nevett (instructed by Messrs. Peshall and Kaye) applied on behalf of the Northern Bank for an order charging the share and interest of John Oloff McCall in the sum of £9,000, standing to the credit of the suits, with a judgment obtained by the applicants against him of £3,175 16s. 11d.

Counsel moved on the affidavit of Mr. Marcus B. Mallows, manager of the Grafton street branch of the Northern Bank, which stated that the bank recovered judgment against John Oloff McCall for the sum of £3,175 16s. 11d., in an action in the High Courts. A writ of fi fa was issued and lodged with the Sub-Sheriff for the County of Westmeath. No return had been made to the writ, but the Sub-Sheriff had informed the bank's solicitors that he failed to discover any stock on McCall's farm, and that, in fact, nothing had been levied on foot of the fi fa. McCall was the owner of 400 Debentures, of £10 each, of the Queen's Theatre, the premises of which had been sold. There was now standing in Court to the credit of the suits a sum of £9,000 on deposit receipt, being the purchase money of the theatre premises. McCall was beneficially entitled to portion of the £9,000 as holder of the Debentures.

Mr. Justice Murnaghan granted the order sought.

QUARRY OWNERS' DISPUTE

ACTION FOR DAMAGES FOR TRESPASS.

(Before Mr. Justice Meredith.)

The action concluded, in which William Osborne and Joseph Brady, Ballymackea, Blessington, Co. Wicklow, claimed damages from Daniel McEvoy, of the same place, for trespass on, and damage to, their quarry.

The defence was a denial of all the acts alleged by the plaintiffs.

Mr. Justice Meredith made a new line of demarcation between the two quarries, and, deciding that there was a trespass, he awarded to the plaintiffs £1 damages, but declined to grant them an injunction. He ordered that the parties pay their own costs.

Mr. Swayne, K.C., Mr. Lupton, K.C., and Mr. Monks (instructed by Mr. R. A. Osborne) appeared for the plaintiffs; and Mr. J. M. Fitzgerald, Senior Counsel, Mr. Rice, Senior Counsel, and Mr. G. Moonan (instructed by Mr. John Moran) for the defendant.

TENANT'S CHANGE OF BUSINESS.

AN INJUNCTION GRANTED.

(Before Mr. Justice Johnston.)

The hearing concluded of the action brought by Mr. James P. Bates, of 20 Moyne road, Rathmines, commercial traveller, and his sister, Christina Bates, of 17 South Anne street, Dublin, against Miss Teresa French, 16 South Anne street, fruiterer and confectioner.

Mr. Hector Hughes (instructed by Mr. Gerald Fitzgerald), for the plaintiffs, said that the action was brought by them as landlords against the tenant of the lock-up shop and parlour in 16 South Anne street, for damages caused by the defendant wrongfully entering the plaintiffs' yard and premises at the same place, and obstructing the use of the yard by the plaintiffs and their other tenants in the house; and also for an injunction against her. The premises were let to defendant as a lock-up shop in 1915, in which she carried on business as a dressmaker. In June, 1922, she changed her business without notice to that of fruiterer and confectioner, and began to sleep on the premises, and used the yard as a storing place.

Mr. James Henry (instructed by Messrs. Roger Greene and Sons), who appeared for the defendant, said that she denied that she ever obstructed anyone having access to the yard who had the right to go there, and he examined a Corporation official to show that the yard was kept in a filthy state.

Mr. Hughes said that the yard was in perfect order until the defendant changed her business.

His lordship expressed the opinion that the defendant had no right to use the yard, except to get access to the sanitary accommodation jointly with the other tenants. She was not entitled to use it for her trade purposes, as he believed she had done. He entered judgment for plaintiffs for 1s. damages and costs, and granted an injunction restraining the defendant from continuing the acts complained of.

DAIL EIREANN COURTS.

A £50 MILK FINE.

(Before Commissioner C. Kenny.)

The appeal, in which the Corporation of Dublin had prosecuted Mrs. Anastasia Devereux, of 115 Islandbridge road, for having sold to the public (Mr. Henry Shanley, Inspector of Nuisances) a sample of milk, which, on analysis, had been found to be adulterated with 10.6 per cent. of its weight of water, was mentioned. The case originally came before the District Republican Court on the 12th of October, 1921, when a fine of £100 was recorded against Mrs. Devereux, to be reduced to £50, if she gave up the milk business. After some time she went out of the business. The reason that influenced the Court below in fining her so heavily was that there had been several previous convictions for similar offences against her.

The Corporation now sought to have the £50 order confirmed, and the Commissioner made the order as requested.

Mr. H. Bonass appeared for the Corporation, and Mr. William Corrigan appeared for the defendant.

TRIM COUNCIL AUDIT.

REASONS FOR SURCHARGES.

The report of the Auditor of the Local Government Department on his audit of the accounts of the Trim Urban Council for the four years 1920 to 1923, was considered by a special meeting of the Council.

The Auditor, having referred to the burning of the Town Hall by Crown forces in September, 1920, by which the records up to that date were destroyed, urges the Council to put the gas undertaking on a financial basis, and states that he has requested the Local Government Department to hold an extraordinary audit. He disallows payments amounting to £619, for which treasurer's notes could not be produced, and surcharges the amount against the Trim branch of the Bank of Ireland.

Referring to a loan of £1,500, borrowed from the Hibernian Band for steam-rolling purposes, he states that it was not approved by the Ministry for Local Government, and that £600 of it was utilised to repay instalments of principal to the Bank of Ireland with respect to the waterworks loan, and he concludes:—"I have disallowed payments amounting to £57 1s. 9d. respecting interest authorised by the Council on said loan, as the Hibernian Bank have recredited £46 7s. to the Council's general account, being interest on same loan, but not authorised by any ulterior purpose. He was manager of Tyler's Grafton street branch.

KEPT FOR SENTIMENT.

Defendant said he kept the weapons because of the associations. He was not connected with any political organisation.

Mr. Cussen said the Act left him no option but to pass sentence of six months on conviction. He would, however, deal with the accused under the First Offenders Act, and bind him over to keep the peace for 12 months in his own bail of £25.

COUNTY LIMERICK MURDER CHARGE.

PRISONERS ACCUSE EACH OTHER.

Mr. P. P. O'Donoghue, District Justice, sat in the County Courthouse, Limerick, yesterday, and concluded the investigation into the charge of the murder at Carnane, Fedamore, of Edward Walshe, labourer, which is preferred against Michael Talbot, a nephew, and Annie Walshe, widow of the murdered man, on the night of the 24th October.

Chief Superintendent Maguire prosecuted, and the male prisoner was defended by Mr. M. C. Burke, solicitor. The female prisoner was not professionally represented.

Superintendent O'Rielly, William street Station, Limerick, deposed that on the evening of the 26th October he was in the office at the station when Sergeant O'Mahony handed in a report to him. He went to the day-room, in which the accused, Michael Talbot and Annie Walshe, were. The witness said to Talbot: "I understand that you wish to make a statement," and he said "Yes." The witness then cautioned him, and Talbot made a statement in presence of the female prisoner.

In the course of the statement Talbot said that the female prisoner met him on Thursday and told him to come over on Friday night and they would kill Ned, and that she would give him half of the money. Talbot went over on Friday night at ten o'clock, and while they were sitting at the fire she told her husband to go out for some sticks. While he was out she put a hatchet under her apron and, having lowered the lamp, she struck the deceased man with the hatchet on the head. She told Talbot to hold his hands, and she then struck him another blow, and he did not stir any more. Talbot remained in the house until the morning, and when he was leaving Annie Walshe told him that she would go to the Guards, but not to let them see him (Talbot).

While Talbot was making the statement the female prisoner was interrupting, and subsequently made a statement to the effect that the male prisoner was telling lies; that he forced in the door, entered the kitchen, produced a revolver, and after knocking down her husband shot him through the head. Talbot, she added, told her not to stir and kept her down by the throat.

Talbot, in reply to that statement, said that he never carried a revolver in his life.

This closed the evidence, and the female prisoner told the Court that Talbot, after knocking at the door of the house, having entered by pushing in the jamb, said: "You were very hard on me at the last Court day and now is the time to have revenge." She said not to mind it now, and added that she was afraid of Talbot, who had threatened her previously.

The accused were returned for trial to the next competent Court of Jurisdiction to be held in Limerick.

CANAL MYSTERY SOLVED.

DEAD BODY IDENTIFIED.

The mystery in connection with the dead man found in the Grand Canal, at Charlemont street, was solved yesterday at the adjourned inquest held in the Town Hall, Rathmines, when it was definitely proved that the deceased was Frederick Joseph Maguire (67), 24 Richmond Hill.

At the inquest on Saturday the body was identified by Frederick Maguire, 12 Harrington street, as that of his father, and by Mrs. Connon, 11 Holles street, as that of her husband, Charles Connon. Detective Officer Quinn, D.M.P. Detective Division, however, stated that the deceased man in the morgue was not Charles Connon with whom he had come in contact in an official capacity some time ago.

The first witness brought on yesterday was Mrs. Julia Parkinson, 24 Richmond Hill, who identified the body as that of Frederick Joseph Maguire. She stated that she had also identified the articles of clothing taken from the deceased man as belonging to him.

Evidence of identification was also given by deceased's daughter and two nieces. Charles Connon, Windy Arbour, Dundrum, deposed that the body in the morgue was not that of his father.

The jury returned a verdict that death was due to asphyxia, following immersion in the water.

BALLYMENA MOTOR FATALITY.

CONSTABLE AND PEDESTRIAN KILLED.

An inquest was held at Ballymena yesterday afternoon on the body of Constable Frederick R. Rodgers, Royal Ulster Constabulary, Strabane, who was killed on Saturday night by coming in contact with aged man named James Macauley, near Ballymena, while motor cycling. Macauley, who was over seventy years of age, also received serious injuries, and he died in hospital at 11 o'clock on Sunday.

Nathaniel Grant Rodgers, a toll collector for the Belfast Harbour Commissioners, said that the deceased, Frederick Rodgers, was his son and a life-long abstainer.

The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and sympathy was expressed with the relatives.

Strabane Petty Sessions Court also expressed sympathy. District Inspector Gallagher thanked the magistrates for the police, and said that Constable Rodgers had upheld the dignity of the force.

SOUVENIR REVOLVERS.

CANADIAN EX-OFFICER CHARGED

Harry Maitland Wanamaker (41), shop manager, 29 Upper Mount street, was charged at the Dublin District Court yesterday before Mr. Cussen with having at his residence two revolvers—one .45 Colt and one .45 Webley—contrary to the Firearms Act.

Mr. E. H. Burne, solicitor, defended.

Sergeant Mooney stated that on the previous night, accompanied by Detective Officers Denham and Ryan, he visited the defendant's house, and told him that they were about to search the place for arms. Defendant accompanied them to the bedroom, put his hand under a pillow and pulled out two revolvers. He stated that he had been an officer in the Canadian Army, and that they were souvenirs. He had neglected to get a permit.

Witness said that he was satisfied that defendant had not the revolvers for any ulterior purpose. He was manager of Tyler's Grafton street branch.

KEPT FOR SENTIMENT.

Defendant said he kept the weapons because of the associations. He was not connected with any political organisation.

Mr. Cussen said the Act left him no option but to pass sentence of six months on conviction. He would, however, deal with the accused under the First Offenders Act, and bind him over to keep the peace for 12 months in his own bail of £25.

FOOTPLATE VETERAN.

DROVE TWO MILLION MILES.

To well-earned rest retires Mr. Thomas Shaw Gourley, of Ballygowan, Co. Down, who has retired after forty-four years on the footplate. He has driven two million miles on Northern lines, with never a serious accident. The worst that ever befell his passengers was that five were left behind from a train which Mr. Gourley drove from Craigavad to Belfast—but he went back for them.

The directors have placed Mr. Gourley on pension.

IN THE COURT OF THE RAILWAY TRIBUNAL.
RAILWAYS ACT, 1924.
In the Matter of the AMALGAMATION OF THE GREAT SOUTHERN RAILWAYS COMPANY AND THE DUBLIN AND SOUTH EASTERN RAILWAY COMPANY (INCLUDING THE CITY OF DUBLIN JUNCTION RAILWAYS AND NEW ROSS AND WATERFORD EXTENSION RAILWAYS).
Whereas by a preliminary amalgamation scheme under Section 10 of the Railways Act, 1924 (known as "the Railways (Great Southern) Preliminary Amalgamation Scheme 1924") the Great Southern and Western Railway Company, the Cavan and Leitrim Railway Company, the Dublin, Wicklow and Wexford Railway Company, the Great Southern and Western Railway Company (including the Bantry Bay Extension), the Great Northern Railway Company, the Midland Great Western of Ireland Railway Company and the Cork Bandon and South Coast Railway Company (including the Bantry Bay Extension), being three of the Companies named in the First Schedule of the said Act, were dissolved and their undertakings were amalgamated and vested in and became the undertaking of the Great Southern Railway Company, formed and incorporated by the said Scheme on and from the 10th day of November, 1924.
And whereas under and by virtue of the provisions of the said Act and the aforementioned Preliminary Amalgamation Scheme the Amalgamating Companies for the purposes of the said Act are now the Great Southern Railways Company and the Dublin and South Eastern Railway Company (including the City of Dublin Junction Railways and the New Ross and Waterford Extension Railway).
Notice is hereby given that the Court of the Railway Tribunal will sit at the Courts of Justice, Dublin, on Saturday, the 29th day of November, 1924, at 11 a.m., for the purpose of determining the terms and conditions of amalgamation to be settled by the said Amalgamating Companies in accordance with the said Act and to hear representations in the matter from the said Amalgamating Companies and any other interested persons.
Six copies of any representations intended to be made by interested parties other than the said Amalgamating Companies should be furnished in writing to the Registrar of the Court at No. 3, Upper Castle Yard, Dublin, not later than Monday, the 24th day of November, 1924.
Dated this 14th day of November, 1924.
JOHN O'BRIEN, Registrar.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

Polling takes place to-day in South Dublin, East Cork, and North Mayo.—(Page 5.)

The price of milk having been raised to 8d. a quart in Belfast, consumers there have halved their orders as a protest.—(Page 5.)

The widespread use of fish meal as a feeding stuff for pigs and poultry is said to have injured the prices of Irish produce in Britain.—(Page 7.)

On Saturday County Armagh policemen searched the house of a deceased postman in the town of Keady and found nearly 1,000 letters and circulars, some of which had been posted ten years ago.—(Page 5.)

At Limerick yesterday Michael Talbot and Annie Walshe were sent for trial charged with the murder of Edward Walshe, a farm labourer, of Fedamore. The female prisoner is the widow of the murdered man and Talbot is his nephew.—(Page 3.)

ABROAD.

Two persons have been frozen to death in America, where a 52 years' record has been broken by a cold spell.—(Page 5.)

The Spanish troops have withdrawn from Sheshaun.—(Page 5.)

SPORTING.

At Warwick yesterday Shagreen won the Kenilworth Handicap Stakes.—(Page 8.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stock Markets were quiet, with an irregular appearance. A rumour was current that the remaining £1,500,000 Marconi Debentures are about to be issued.—(Page 9.)

Money was in demand in Lombard street, and overnight loans went on at 3½ per cent. down to 2½ per cent. Sterling in New York experienced a sharp setback.—(Page 9.)

In Dublin the market was quiet. Both National Loan and Compensation Stock were easier. Textiles were just steady.—(Page 9.)

Free State Elections.

Five by-elections will be decided during the present week in the Free State. Polling will take place to-day in South Dublin, North Mayo and East Cork, to-morrow in Cork City and on Thursday in Donegal. In every case the nominee of the Government's party is being opposed by a Republican, and the result of these contests must be important and may be far-reaching. The Government has not acted wisely, in its own interests, by allowing them to accumulate until they have been launched upon the country in the form of a miniature general election. We have reached a point in the development of the Free State, and in the career of its first Government, when that Government must fight elections under a rather serious handicap. In the first place, time, which is the Republicans' worst enemy, has not yet exposed the utter emptiness of their policy. In the next place, the Free State Government is challenging a vote of national confidence at a moment when its enemies can attack it on the ground that it has done either too little or too much. It has enforced economies which, while absolutely necessary, have offended large classes of the electors. The fruit of those economies has not yet become visible in reduced taxation or in schemes of reconstruction which would give large employment; and on the eve of a winter which has been preluded by a bad harvest the unemployment problem is abnormally acute. In a word, the Republicans have had opportunities to conceal their own lack of a case by abuse of the other side's attorney.

If we were an educated people, with any real sense of our political responsibilities, the Government could afford to despise the sort of abuse and misrepresentation which has been poured from Republican platforms during the last few days. Unhappily, the reports of election meetings show that a large body of political thought—if "thought" it can be called—in the Free State remains calamitously crude and ignorant. Unhappily, also, in the course of this election campaign Ministers and other supporters of the official candidates have permitted themselves to descend too often to the level of their critics. Nevertheless, two facts emerge boldly from the flood of talk. The Free State Government confronts the country with a fine record of achievement and with a substantial programme of development. It has laid the foundations of nationhood within the greatest of all Commonwealths. It has restored law and order and is grappling bravely with a hundred problems of national economics. In a word, with all its faults of omission and commission, it might be counted a good Government, even if it were not—as, of course, it is—the alternative to ruin. The most cogent proof that President Cosgrave's Government is indispensable at this time has come from the Republican platforms. Irish Republicanism's only policy is a sentiment of hate and a refusal to recognise realities. It has no programme of construction, since it never has ceased to think in terms of destruction. Not a single one of its speeches in this campaign has contained a glimmer of statesmanship. Its only invitation is an invitation to anarchy.

Raw though the present state of the country's political thought may be, any suggestion that the mass of our people are prepared deliberately to accept this invitation to chaos would be an insult to the national intelligence. The chief danger at this week's elections will be the danger of apathy. People who are what they may be called negative supporters of the Government may not exert themselves

DAY OF THE POLLS

FOR THREE DAIL SEATS.

LAST APPEAL TO ELECTORS.

THE DANGER OF APATHY.

BY OUR POLITICAL CORRESPONDENT.

Polling takes place to-day in Dublin City (South), East Cork and North Mayo. In all of these constituencies there is a straight issue between a supporter of the Treaty and a Republican candidate.

Of the three contests, most interest has been centred in North Mayo, which for some reason has been regarded as a Republican stronghold. At the last election Mr. P. J. Ruttledge, the Republican, topped the poll with 8,997 first preference votes to 8,011 for Mr. Joseph McGrath, then a Government candidate; but when totalled up the direct vote was 14,107 for Cumann-na-nGaedheal candidates as against 10,404 for the Republicans. Besides that, there were over 2,000 votes given for Farmer and Labour candidates, who were out to work the Treaty.

When questioned yesterday, officials at the Republican headquarters in Dublin described Mayo as "safe" for to-day. On the other hand the Cumann na nGaedheal expect to win the seat, although they admit that the position was "dubious" up to a week ago. They state that the change of feeling has been brought about by the personality of their candidate, Professor Tierney, who has made an excellent impression. It is claimed that the sense of security, which has followed the defeat of the Republicans in the field, with the desire for land, has made the ordinary Mayo voter a supporters of the Government.

The last election for South Dublin, which returns seven members to the Dail, was held in March last, when Mr. James O'Mara, the official Cumann na nGaedheal candidate, was returned by 17,193 to 13,942 for Mr. Sean Lemass, who is again fighting the seat in Republican interests. At that election 38,250 people voted out of a possible 75,000 on the register. For to-day's election, which has been caused by the appointment of Mr. H. Kennedy as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, the effective voting strength of the constituency is about 60,000. The Republican leaders would not go further than the expression "strong hopes" when asked for their views of their chances. The Cumann na nGaedheal people are nervous, not because there is not an overwhelming Treaty majority in the Parliamentary area, but because so many may, through carelessness, abstain from voting, and thus give the Republican poll a false value. Elaborate preparations have been made to prevent personation.

The reports of those who have been in East Cork working for the return of Mr. Noonan, the Cumann na nGaedheal candidate, are that he will be returned by an overwhelming majority. At the general election in August last the Ministerial vote was four times that of the Republicans.

Polling takes place in Cork City to-morrow, and in Donegal on Thursday.

SOUTH DUBLIN.

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Candidates—S. Hughes (Cumann na nGaedheal); S. Lemass (Republican).

There were three platforms at a largely attended meeting held in College street last night, in support of the candidature of Mr. Sean Lemass.

Mr. J. J. Kelly, who recently returned from America, criticised the financial clauses of the Treaty, and remarked that England had said nothing about them as yet. Under these clauses Ireland became liable for a proportion of England's national debt and war debt, which, it was estimated, would amount to £500,000,000. Was there, he asked, anyone present willing to contribute towards that amount? Did anyone there want two Parliaments in Ireland? Did anyone there want to take an oath of allegiance to the King of England? To these questions portion of the crowd answered "No," and the speaker remarked, "then there must be no Free Staters here."

Mr. M. J. O'Mullane declared that the Free State Government had taxed the people into a state of degradation. The Republicans would work for them and give them employment. The Republicans would insist on one Government for the whole of Ireland, instead of having two Governments, and the money saved would be used for promoting industry.

Mr. Lemass said that compromise had failed, and that their object was complete independence for the whole of the country. That was the only way to secure stability.

Mr. Austin Stack repeated statements made on the previous day as to the quantities of ammunition and materials requisitioned from the British Government for the attack on the Four Courts in June, 1922.

Speeches were also made by Mrs. Sheehy Skeffington, Mr. Paul, Countess Markievicz, Dr. Kathleen Lynn, Madame Gonne McBride and others.

The Council of the Unemployed held a meeting in support of Mr. Lemass in Foster Place.

NORTH MAYO.

EFFORTS TO SECURE A HEAVY POLL.

Candidates—M. Tierney (Cumann na nGaedheal); J. A. Madden (Republican).

FROM OUR REPORTER.

BALLINA, Monday.

After eleven days of strenuous electioneering activity the politicians this evening took leave of the electors of North Mayo, and to-morrow night the decision of the people will repose in the ballot boxes. Having addressed two or three meetings in the early afternoon, Messrs. Mulcahy, Hogan, McGilligan, O'Malley, and McBride left for Dublin; while several of the Republican speakers also bade farewell to the constituency after making a final appeal to the electors to place Dr. Madden at the head of the poll.

There is little question that the result of the election will be determined entirely by the extent to which the franchise is exercised. If there is a heavy poll Professor Tierney's return is certain, but if there is a small poll the Republicans will have a good chance of capturing the seat. Strong efforts will be made by the Cumann na nGaedheal organisation to bring every supporter of Mr. Tierney to the polling booths, and upwards of 160 motor cars will be used for this purpose.

The count will begin on Wednesday morning, and it is expected that the result will be known early on Thursday night.

THE LAST WORD.

About half-a-dozen meetings were addressed on behalf of the two candidates to-day.

Mr. P. J. Ruttledge was the principal speaker at a big Republican meeting in Ballina. His speech occupied the best part of two hours, and in the main was devoted to a repudiation of the suggestions that he was an "Imperialist" in 1916. The "maliciously false" statements circulated about him by Mr. O'Higgins and Mr. Reddin, he said, were intended to deceive the people of Ireland as to his attitude in 1916 and 1917. Mr. Ruttledge then answered Mr. O'Higgins's statement paragraph by paragraph, and alleged that the Minister had deliberately suppressed facts, and had made deliberate misquotations. The crowd seemed entirely satisfied with the explanation, and cheered enthusiastically.

Mr. Ruttledge went on to refer to General Macready's book. General Macready, he said, had left them to draw the inference that it would be much better if the Irish could be got to attack the Four Courts than that the LOST MAILS.

1,000 UNDELIVERED LETTERS

FOUND IN A HOUSE IN KEADY.

An extraordinary discovery has been made by the County Armagh police. At the house of a deceased postman in Keady they found nearly one thousand undelivered letters and circulars.

The man was Thomas Sleator and he lived in a house in Main street, which is now occupied by his widow. He had been in the service of the Keady Post Office for thirty years up to the time of his death.

Acting on information from the Investigation Department of the Post Office the police visited the house on Saturday, and found business and private letters, circulars, postcards and Christmas cards, some of which were posted as far back as ten years ago. They were hidden away in boxes and drawers and some were discovered in the cellar.

The police continued the search on Sunday and removed the letters and other documents in postbags. District-Inspector Conran, Armagh, was in charge of the search, assisted by Sergeants Carey and Primrose.

The packets were sent to the chief Post Office in Armagh, and it is believed that they will be taken back to Keady for delivery to the addressees.

Some of the letters appeared to have been opened, but the majority were untouched.

The discovery has created great surprise in Keady.

A DRY DUBLIN?

THREATENED STRIKE OF BARMEN.

A strike of barmen in Dublin is threatened. Late last night over 1,300 members of the Irish National Union of Vintners, Grocers' and Allied Trades' Association assembled in the Rotunda Cinema to consider the employers' reply to demands which had been made by the Union "consequent on a critical situation which had arisen between assistants and members of the Licensed Grocers' and Vintners' Association." The meeting lasted until 1.45 a.m.

Press representatives were informed later that the meeting had decided to take a ballot next Sunday on the question of withdrawing labour. Details of the matter in dispute were not given.

CONSUMERS' STRIKE.

BELFAST RESISTS HIGH MILK PRICES.

The Belfast public is retaliating upon the retail milk vendors, who increased the price of milk on Sunday from 7d. to 8d. per quart. This morning in hundreds of homes the milk supply was considerably curtailed—in some cases halved—and the vendors, in consequence of this "strike," are finding that their profits, upon the reduced amount distributed will be smaller than if the old quantity were continued at the former price.

One vendor yesterday morning declared that practically all his customers had reduced their supply, and that he would be much worse off at the end of the coming week than he was on Saturday last. Belfast workers are starting an agitation against the increase, for which they declare there is no justification. They particularly resent the increase, in view of the large amount of unemployment in the city, and also on account of the fact that wages in many industries are so reduced that war time prices cannot any longer be paid.

ACTION IN DERRY.

Our Derry Correspondent writes:—Last week it was announced that the price would be advanced as from Sunday by 1d. to 7d. per quart. This decision was not unanimous on the part of the vendors, and yesterday it was discovered that some were still charging 6d. per quart. In many cases vendors charging 7d. had the milk refused by consumers, and they intimated that they would not at present persist in the increase.

DUBLIN CINEMAS.

STATEMENT BY THE MANAGERS.

Arrangements were made yesterday for re-opening the Carlton Cinema, Sackville street, Dublin. The Corinthian Cinema, however, is still closed.

The following statement was issued last night by the Theatre and Cinema Association (Ireland):—

"As the public are no doubt aware, the trouble between the two rival unions—namely, the Irish Transport Union and Larkin's Union, or the Workers' Union of Ireland—has now extended to the theatre and cinema industry.

"This has been hastened by certain members of the staffs in two houses in the trade leaving their work without giving due notice, there being no dispute as to wages or conditions of employment. As a result of this these houses had to be closed, and a special meeting of the Theatre and Cinema Association was held to-day (Monday) at the offices of Messrs. Kennedy, Crowley and Co., 37 Westmoreland street, the secretaries of the association, and at this meeting it was unanimously decided that any member of the various staffs who left his employment without giving due notice be not re-employed, no matter what union he belonged to.

"For a considerable time past the Theatre and Cinema Association have had a working agreement with the Irish Transport Union with reference to wages and working conditions, and at the meeting to-day a deputation was received from this union which resulted in an arrangement being come to whereby the houses at present closed will be opened forthwith."

TRANSPORT UNION STATEMENT.

The following statement was issued by the head office of the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union last evening:—

"In connection with the temporary close down of the Carlton and Corinthian Picture Houses a conference was held this afternoon between the Theatre and Cinema Association (Ireland) and representatives of the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union. After discussing the present situation, the Theatre and Cinema Association decided unanimously that those employés who had left their jobs in the Carlton and Corinthian would not be re-employed, and that this decision would apply to all employés acting similarly in future.

"The representatives of the I.T. and G.W.U. informed the Association that members of the Union would fill all vacancies occurring in the cinemas and theatres in accordance with the standing agreement between the Association and the Union."

DUBLIN MANSION HOUSE.

COMMISSIONERS' ACTION.

A recent report issued by the Dublin Borough Commissioners states that the Town Clerk, as directed, has taken possession of the Round Room, Supper Room, Oak Room and Billiard Room in the Mansion House, from the Lord Mayor. A scale of charges for the letting of the rooms has been fixed. It has been arranged that Miss O'Sullivan, Secretary to the Lord Mayor, shall deal with the letting of the rooms.

LAST OF THE VINDICTIVE.

BRUSSELS, Monday.

A large section has just been separated from what remains of the wreck of the Vindictive in Ostend Harbour, and is now being cut up by the divers. Nine-tenths of the cruiser has now been removed, and there is every hope that in a few weeks the historic wreck will have disappeared entirely.

The use of explosives in the splitting up of the various parts of the Vindictive was discontinued a week ago.—(The Times Correspondent.)

CITY'S WATER CUT OFF.

ARMED FARMERS' RAID IN AMERICA.

A CALL FOR TROOPS.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LOS ANGELES, Monday.

A long-standing feud over water rights came to a head yesterday, when sixty armed farmers, owning property in the Owens River valley district, raided the Los Angeles aqueduct near Lone Pine, two hundred miles north of Los Angeles, the city's chief source of water, and turned the whole flow into the river.

The situation presented such serious possibilities that the Sheriff appealed to the Governor for troops to be sent. These are now engaged in an attempt to stem the rushing waters.

The city is not in immediate danger, as the authorities declare there are other sources from which they can be certain of at least a ninety days' water supply.

The raiding Owens River valley farmers claim they have been ruined by the aqueduct, as they are unable to sell any of their land.

THE LANE PICTURES.

BRIEF FOR SENATOR BROWN.

Senator S. L. Brown has accepted an honorary brief to present Dublin Corporation's case before the Commission which is to decide whether the Lane Pictures are to be retained in London or returned to Dublin.

This information appears in a brevíat issued by the Dublin Borough Commissioners for the quarter ending last September.

"The question of the disposal of the late Sir Hugh Lane's pictures was under consideration," says this statement. "The Law Agent, in a report submitted by him, following a visit of Commissioner Dr. Dwyer and some of the Corporation officials to the Ministry of Finance, stated that a Committee of three had been set up by the British Parliament to inquire into the question whether Sir Hugh Lane, when he signed the codicil, thought he was making a legal disposition of the pictures, and, if so, whether, in view of the international character of the matter, it would be proper to remedy any defect in the codicil by legislation.

PUBLIC-SPIRITED ACTION.

"It has been suggested that the Corporation should make the case on behalf of Dublin, and Senator S. L. Brown, K.C., has kindly undertaken to prepare this case for submission to the Lane Pictures Committee. Senator Brown has declined to accept any fee for this work, and the Commissioners desire to place on record their keen appreciation of his public-spirited attitude in the matter.

"The Law Agent has already prepared a brief for the Corporation's case and sent it to Senator Brown. The Law Agent was authorised to incur any necessary expenditure and to arrange for the attendance at the Lane Pictures Committee of such persons as, in his opinion, will suit the best interests of the city."

CHURCH CONVENTION.

BISHOP OF NEW YORK'S STATEMENT.

NEW YORK, Monday.

The Bishop of New York has issued the following statement:—The Alliance of International Friendship and the Churches of the World for Promoting Friendship through the Churches, of which the Archbishop of Canterbury is President, has just concluded its great convention at Buffalo. The English speakers were Sir Willoughby Dickinson, Sir Henry Lunn, and Mr. W. T. Layton, the Editor of the Economist. A letter was received from the Archbishop of Canterbury commending Sir Henry Lunn's message to the American people.

Dr. Manning, Bishop of New York, then invited Sir Henry Lunn to preach at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, of which the Sanctuary and choir, seating two thousand, have now been completed, and when the cathedral is finished it will be the third largest in the world. It is situated in the highest part of New York, and towers above all the secular buildings. Bishop Manning invited the leaders of all the Churches to join in a procession before the Service. Sir Henry Lunn preached upon international co-operation in the reconstruction of Christendom.—(Reuter.)

ALLIED BOOK-KEEPING.

MR. PARKER GILBERT'S LETTER EXPLAINED.

FROM OUR DIPLOMATIC CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Monday.

The letter sent to the German Finance Minister by Mr. Parker Gilbert, Agent-General for Reparations Payments, under the Dawes scheme, on the subject of the 26 per cent. export tax, appears to have caused a surprising amount of misunderstanding.

In reality it is of little significance. The whole matter is one of book-keeping. The Dawes plan provides that Germany is to take no reparations payments except as that plan lays down. Mr. Gilbert does not dispute the right of any of the Allies to levy the 26 per cent. duty, his letter simply means that the sums raised in this manner must figure on the books of the Dawes machinery.

WAR GUILT CHARGES.

FORMER AMBASSADOR'S REPLY.

PARIS, Monday.

M. Paleologue, who is accused in M. Georges Louis's diary of having when Ambassador in St. Petersburg in 1914 contributed to bring on the war, replies to-day to the charge in a letter to the Press. He says that on July 28, 1914, when the war cloud was growing ever more threatening, he spontaneously asked the Russian Government to agree in advance to whatever procedures France and Great Britain might propose, with a view to safeguarding peace. M. Sazonoff, Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs, demurred. M. Paleologue then asked for an immediate audience of the Tsar, because, as he said, "I won't let my country be dragged into war so long as my Government holds out the slightest hope of preventing it." M. Sazonoff then gave his official assent to M. Paleologue's request, and the Ambassador immediately telegraphed to Paris informing his Government of the position.

M. Paleologue adds that he is sure it was partly in consequence of his action that the Tsar the next day telegraphed to the Kaiser offering to let the Austro-Serbian dispute be submitted to the Hague Court.

GREEKS MURDERED IN BULGARIA.

ATHENS, Monday.

The Greek Government has sent a strong protest to the Bulgarian Government against the assassination of three Greeks at Stanimaka on November 11. Greece specially complains that, in spite of the Bulgarian Government's promises, no measures have been taken for protecting the Greek minority.—(Reuter.)

FINNISH SCHOLAR DEAD.

The death is announced at Helsingfors of Professor Wirkkunen, Rector of the University of Abo.

AUSTRALIAN STRIKE ENDED.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

The overtime strike has ended at all points in Australia, but overseas vessels are still affected except at Melbourne.

COLD SPELL IN AMERICA.

52 YEARS' RECORD BROKEN.

4° ABOVE ZERO.

TWO PERSONS FROZEN TO DEATH.

NEW YORK, Monday.

A fifty-two years' weather record in the North-Eastern part of the United States has been broken by the present cold wave. After a record dry spell snowfalls have occurred in the Mississippi River district and to the eastward.

The mercury in New York State to-day was reported to be only four degrees above zero.

Shipping on the Lake Ontario is at a stand-still.

Two persons are, so far, reported to have been frozen to death, and many others have been overcome by the cold.

ADRIATIC IN A CYCLONE.

The White Star liner Adriatic arrived here to-day, covered with ice and twelve hours overdue, as a result of having encountered a cyclonic gale and snowstorm.

The vessel lost one of her lifeboats and three others were crushed. A seaman who was making his last trip on the liner before joining the London Police Force was swept overboard when a huge wave and a ninety miles an hour gale struck the steamer. Several lifebuoys were thrown out, but the sailor was not seen again.—(Reuter.)

NO REVELATIONS BY ZAGHLUL PASHA.

STATEMENT ON HIS INTERVIEW WITH KING FUAD.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

CAIRO, Monday.

Zaghlul Pasha made a statement in the Chamber this evening regarding the solution of the crisis which caused him to resign, and then to withdraw his resignation.

The Chamber, however, were disappointed; for the Premier did not, as anticipated, make any revelations regarding the real nature of his long audience with King Fuad.

He merely stated that the King was in full agreement with Parliament and the country in their confidence in Zaghlul's Ministry, and, therefore, could not accept his resignation.

The King, he added, made certain statements which tended considerably to lighten his task, and he had n alternative but to withdraw his resignation.

Some light is thrown on the cause of the crisis by La Liberte, a Zaghlulist organ, which states that until yesterday there had been a divergence of views between the King and the Premier regarding the interpretation of some clauses of the Constitution concerning certain of the Royal prerogatives.

ŒCUMENICAL PATRIARCH DEAD.

HEAD OF EASTERN CHRISTENDOM.

Monsignor Gregorius, the Œcumenical Patriarch, died yesterday morning at Constantinople, after a lingering illness.

Gregorius the Seventh succeeded Meletius the Fourth, who, some eighteen months ago, was expelled from the Patriarchate by a mob, headed by the notorious Papa Eftim.

ELECTIONEERING IN GERMANY.

"JUNKERS ON THE RUN."

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BERLIN, Monday.

A burst of activity during the week-end is likely to prove the prelude to a three week's intense electioneering campaign in Germany.

Yesterday's municipal election results at various centres suggest that the public is rallying to the support of the Democratic and Moderate Parties.

"The Junkers are on the run," declared the former Minister of the Colonies, Herr Dernburg, one of the leaders of the German Democratic parties, at a big demonstration in Berlin yesterday.

A new feature in German elections is provided by the appearance on Democratic platforms of various members of the aristocracy, who are disgusted with the Junker policy.

A Communist set-back seems to be one of the certainties of the forthcoming elections.

A BUSINESS PROGRAMME.

DEMANDS OF U.S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, Monday.

A new legislative programme for the reorganisation of American business has been placed before President Coolidge by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Amongst the many recommendations made by the Chamber are:—

Repeal of the law allowing the publication of income tax payments;

The creation of a National Tax Commission;

Amendment of the Anti-Trust laws, permitting the publication of trade statistics;

A subsidy for the American Merchant Marine;

The continuance of the Railway Labour Board;

The appointment of a scientific Commission;

and the extension of a national Budget system.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.

ENORMOUS SALARIES TO AMERICAN STAFF.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

PARIS, Monday.

The enormous salaries and unlimited expense accounts of the American members of the Dawes Plan Organisation threaten to make it more expensive than the larger Reparations Commission, which officially dissolves on January 1, declares the well-informed Paris newspaper Sans Fil.

The newspaper states that the staff of Mr. Seymour Parker Gilbert, the Agent-General for Reparations, costs four to five thousand francs daily, "which is entirely too much, even for living in Berlin." It declares:—

The closest secrecy shrouds the salaries being paid to the personnel of the Dawes Plan Organisation, but Sans Fil states that the German newspapers are already protesting against the carrying of a heavy burden of highly-paid officials.

LIQUOR SMUGGLERS IN ICELAND.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.
FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

COPENHAGEN, Monday.

Telegrams received here from Iceland report that the Reykjavik police have just made a series of raids for the purpose of capturing rum smugglers. Many arrests have been made of prominent residents engaged in illegal liquor traffic, and fines of 2,000 kroner, with thirty to forty-five days' imprisonment, upon each offender have been inflicted.

SIR M. FITZMAURICE.

DEATH OF DISTINGUISHED IRISH ENGINEER.

The Times announces the death in London yesterday of Sir Maurice Fitzmaurice, C.M.G., F.R.S. Sir Maurice was a distinguished engineer, who was known especially for his work on the bridges and main drainage of London and on the great Assuan Dam in Egypt. Last summer his expert advice was sought on the dangerous condition of Waterloo Bridge.

Born in the County Kerry on May 11, 1861, the son of Dr. Robert Fitzmaurice, of Cloghera, Tralee, he went to Trinity College, Dublin, where he took the degrees of M.A. and M.Eng. Having served articles under the late Sir Benjamin Baker, he soon began to acquire a reputation for sound and careful work. He was engaged on the construction of the Forth Bridge, of railways and docks in Canada, and of the Blackwall Tunnel. His next important appointment was that of Chief Engineer to the Egyptian Government on the building of the Assuan Dam on the Nile, which was designed by Sir W. Willcocks, and for his services he received the Order of the Medjidieh of the Second Class in 1901 and the C.M.G. in 1902. This great work, which was completed in 1902, created a storage reservoir of many millions of cubic feet. At the age of 40 he was appointed Chief Engineer to the London County Council, a post which he held for eleven years.

After his retirement he joined the firm of Coode, Fitzmaurice, Wilson and Mitchell, consulting engineers for harbours to the Crown Agents for the Colonies, and to the Sudan Government for the Blue Nile irrigation works, and chief engineers of the national harbours at Dover and Peterhead. Fitzmaurice's Knighthood in March, 1912, when the King laid the foundation stone of the new County Hall, was felt to be the well-deserved recognition of notable services to London. These included the duplication and extension of the whole main drainage system at a cost of four millions, and the construction of the Rotherhithe tunnel, the embankment in front of the County Hall, the new Vauxhall Bridge, and the subway for the tramway from the Embankment at Waterloo Bridge under Aldwych and Kingsway to the street level north of Holborn.

Various professional and other honours were conferred on Sir Maurice. He was one of the few engineers who have ever been admitted to the Fellowship of the Royal Society. Sir Maurice married in 1911 Ida, daughter of Colonel E. Dickinson, R.E., of West Lavington Hill, Midhurst, and had two daughters.

THE MODERN GIRL.

MORE INDEPENDENT AND LESS CONVENTIONAL.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

MANCHESTER, Monday.

The girl University student has grown much more like the American girl. She has become more fearless and independent.

These are the estimates of Miss Phœbe Sheavyn, Director of Women's Studies at Manchester University. Miss Sheavyn had two years at Bryn Mawr, near Philadelphia, and ten years at Oxford before she came to Manchester 18 years ago, and she is now retiring to a cottage in Sussex.

The thing that struck her most after the American experience was the conventionality of the English girl as contrasted with the extreme independence of the American girl. There has been a growth of independence and a throwing-off of what she calls "meaningless conventionality."

WHERE THEY EXCEL.

In Miss Sheavyn's view this is a great gain. It implies that girls are thinking for themselves, and not accepting blindly what has gone before.

"I have noticed the very interesting point that more girls want to take up mathematics.

"The subjects in which girls are best and equal with the men, and in which they are keenly interested, are English literature, modern languages, and history, that is to say, the main arts subjects. Most of the girls, of course, are going in for teaching; it is the only career in which they are certain of work, but we have those who venture to be pioneers.

"On the general standard of attainment I am not sure that the professors would say there had been any great improvement. It was pretty good 20 years ago. The girls now come from more varied schools, and have more varied education, but the amount of native ability seems much the same; whatever you do you cannot create ability."

FROM HUMBLE HOMES.

"The girls are coming from a much more varied range of society than used to be the case. I do not think 18 years ago that we had the daughters of miners and railway porters. There were not the scholarships, or facilities, or maintenance grants. But the daughters of the professional classes come much more to Manchester, partly, I think, because the standard of amenity has risen, and partly because Oxford and Cambridge are so congested. So far as I can see, there is no social difficulty. If a girl has ability and the talent for leadership, she makes her mark. A girl of character always makes her way."

ARMY OFFICERS AND TRADE.

AMENDED REGULATIONS.

Recent amendments of the King's Regulations provide that no officer on full pay or soldier is permitted, without the sanction of the Army Council, to accept a directorship (except as a nominee of His Majesty's Government) in any public, industrial, or other company or firm, to assist or advise any such company or firm in questions relating to their plant, processes or products. They are also forbidden to act directly or indirectly as agents for any company or firm or themselves to engage in trade.

No officer on half pay is permitted, without the sanction of the Army Council, to accept a directorship (except as a nominee of His Majesty's Government) in any company holding a contract with the War Department.

No War Department contract will be let to an officer on full pay or half pay, to a soldier or to any partnership of which such officer or soldier is a member—apart from a corporation in which he is a shareholder—or to any company of which he is a director (except as a nominee of His Majesty's Government), unless permission has been obtained from the Army Council for the contract, sale or purchase to proceed. In no circumstances may an officer or soldier, who in his private capacity is a principal or shareholder in a firm or company, deal in his official capacity with any negotiation or arbitration in any matter affecting a contract with purchase from or sale to that firm or company.

CHINA AND THE POWERS.

SUN YAT-SEN'S MANIFESTO.

SHANGHAI, Monday.

Sun Yat-sen, who arrived here to-day from Canton en route for Tientsin, where he will have a conference with Chang Tso-lin and Feng Yu-hsiang on the subject of the future government of China, has issued a manifesto, in which he declares himself in favour of the abolition of extra territoriality.—(Reuter.)

The Temps learns that the Governments of London, Paris, Washington, Rome, Brussels, and Tokio are concerting with a view to demanding from the new Pekin Government an assurance that it will respect China's treaty engagements.—(Reuter.)

ATLANTIC LINER ROMANCE.

On the arrival at Plymouth yesterday of the Cunarder Antonia a romance of the Atlantic was disclosed. The day before she left Quebec her chief purser, Mr. Macullum, R.N.R., was married to Miss Ethel Cumming, daughter of General Cumming, late of the Indian Army. The bride first made her future husband's acquaintance while crossing to Canada on the Antonia about twelve months ago. The wedding took place at Magog, nearly one hundred miles from Quebec, and was attended by officers of the ship in Naval Reserve uniform. They formed an archway of swords at the entrance to the Church for the bride and bridegroom to pass under.

MELBOURNE WOOL SALES.

MELBOURNE, Monday.

At the wool sales held here to-day, 8,577 bales were offered, and practically all were sold, competition, particularly on account of Yorkshire and America, being exceedingly keen. The market was firm, and late prices were well maintained.

RAIL STRIKE THREAT.

PROBLEM FOR BRITISH COMPANIES.

UNION REPUDIATES AN AGREEMENT.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, Monday.

A threat of another rail strike by the locomotive men was made to-day by Mr. G. Moore, the Assistant Secretary of the Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen, who is acting as Secretary while Mr. John Bromley is in Russia with the Trade Union Congress Delegation.

One of the issues in the dispute which led to the locomotive men's strike at the beginning of this year was the clause in the award of the National Wages Board which provided that the mileage base line should be 150 miles, instead of 120.

That is to say, instead of special pay above the daily minimum wage beginning when the enginemen had run 120 miles only, the minimum would be paid up to 150 miles. After that each 15 miles would be reckoned as the equivalent of one hour's pay.

One of the terms of settlement of the strike was that this change should be made in three stages instead of immediately. The final stage is timed to be reached on the third pay day in January, when the 150-mile base will come into operation.

Mr. Moore declared to-day that if the companies insist on this there will be a national strike. The matter, he said, would have to be the subject of negotiations.

When the last strike occurred the union contended that an award of the National Board was not binding.

The argument cannot now be used as the union specifically accepted the mileage change on the instalment plan as part of the strike settlement. If Mr. Moore's threat were serious, and supported by the action of members of this union, it would amount to a repudiation of the agreement on which the strike was ended.

Mr. Moore repeated to-day the official declaration of his union, that it does not intend to be associated with the new wages and conditions programme of the N.U.R., in which certain claims on behalf of the locomotive staff are embodied. This programme is still held up pending consideration of some of the details of the N.U.R. Executive.

WEMBLEY IN 1925.

MORE EFFECTIVE GOVERNMENT CO-OPERATION.

"The Government means, so far as lay in their power, to see that the Wembley Exhibition is not only continued next year, but is continued even more successfully," declared Mr. Amery, the British Colonial Secretary, at a dinner in London last night of the British Empire League.

In doing that, he said, the Government did not believe that they were embarking on any rash commitments. They were prepared to do substantially more than had been done in the past to co-operate more effectively to ease the burden which other had borne.

OIL WORKS EXPLOSION.

NEWLY-DISCOVERED SPARK PERIL.

At the resumed inquest on the victims of an explosion at the Shell-mex Works, Shellhaven, it was stated that the fatal ignition was caused by a high tension spark generated by friction between running petrol in pipes. A means had now been found to prevent a recurrence of such a disaster.

The resumed inquest was held at Stanford-le-Hope yesterday on an office boy named Jiggens and a man named Ravening, who were killed by an explosion during the filling of two tanks with petrol at the Shell-mex Works, Shellhaven, on August 28th last. The inquiry had been adjourned pending the recovery of some injured men. One of these, John Pocket, said that two tanks were being filled in the filling bay, and he had just turned around after receiving a message from Jiggens when there was a flash and an explosion. That was all he remembered. Other injured men gave similar evidence; while Henry Blays, fire chief, said that all matches were taken away from the men before they entered the works, nor were there passing any vehicles to emit sparks.

AN UNGUESSED PERIL.

Maurice George Bland, consulting engineer, of London, described tests made by himself and his partner leading to the conclusion that the explosion was probably caused by a high tension spark, following friction between petrol particles agitated under pressure and acceleration produced by gravity in pipes feeding the tanks. It had been known that petrol flowing through a pipe could cause electrical disturbance by the fact of friction, but it had not been known that this could arise when the vessel was not insulated. This was a fresh discovery.

Mr. Clement, manager of the works, said that instructions had now been given for a conducting wire to be connected through tanks to earth direct, by which the electricity thus generated might escape.

A verdict of accidental death was returned in both cases.

FIVE YEARS' PASSPORTS.

FOREIGN OFFICE REGULATION.

The British Foreign Office issues the following:—

On December 1 next new regulations will come into effect, under which British passports may be granted valid for a period of five years from the date of issue. The fee chargeable for the issue of the passport remains unaltered at 7s. 6d. From the same date all British passports presented for renewal, the validity of which has already expired or will shortly expire, may be renewed from the date of expiration for any period from one to five years, at the option of the holder, provided that in no case shall the validity of a passport be extended beyond ten years from the original date of issue. The fee chargeable for the renewal of a passport under the new regulations will be one shilling for each year for which it is renewed.

TRANSPORT UNION PRESIDENT.

WILL MR. GOSLING BE REINSTATED?

It was reported in London yesterday that a number of officials of the Transport and General Workers' Union had gone on strike, in order to put pressure on the National Executive to re-appoint Mr. Harry Gosling, late Minister of Transport, to his office as President of the Union. The reported strike was denied by Mr. Bevin, General Secretary, but inquiries showed that none of the officials at the London headquarters of the Union was on duty in the early part of yesterday, and it transpired that they had proceeded to interview the National Executive, which was in session at Transport House, Kensington.

THE POLICE AND ARMISTICE DAY.

LETTER FROM GENERAL HICKIE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I trust you will allow me, through the medium of your columns, to remove an erroneous impression as regards the assistance which we received from the Dublin Metropolitan Police on Armistice Day. It is true that there was a misunderstanding, but it was due to the fact that no one could have foreseen the happenings of that day.

Had I been in General Murphy's place, I would have taken exactly the same action as he did.—Yours, etc.,

W. D. HICKIE, Major-General.

LATE NEWS.

A BRIEF CRISIS.

ZAGHLUL PASHA'S MANŒUVRE.

The Times in a leading article upon the resignation for the second time of Zaghlul Pasha and its withdrawal observes:—In Egypt, as in other lands with a longer and wider experience of constitutional rule, parties draw the most widely different conclusions from the same facts. Zaghlul Pasha's supporters hail the settlement as a brilliant victory for their party and as a triumph for the friends of the Constitution. The Opposition, on the other hand, sneer at the episode as a well-staged farce, a transparent political manœuvre, planned and executed for no other purpose than the glorification of Zaghlul.

Happily, it is not for us to decide, or even too curiously to inquire into, the real facts of this purely domestic problem, or into their actions and reactions upon parties and individuals. It is probably better for us that authority in Egypt should remain in the hands of the man who commands the widest support, rather than that it should be transferred to others. Zaghlul is, at all events, a known quantity, and he still speaks for the Egyptian Legislature, and for such public opinion as exists in the country. How long he may retain that position is another matter. His internal administration has not been successful; it has even been accompanied by many scandals and abuses, of which nepotism is not the worst. He is said to have owned at a private meeting of his adherents on Saturday that the old unity of his party no longer exists, that there is disaffection in the ranks, that the enthusiasm of former days has abated, and that there are distinct signs of opposition in the coming Session. These were all excellent and obvious reasons for challenging a vote of confidence in the most dramatic form possible. The manœuvre had been executed with brilliant success in June, and there was no reason why it should not be repeated in November.

Our Cairo Correspondent declares that the whole plan was long prepared and strenuously worked up. He adds that it has again succeeded, but declares it to be no more than a palliative which cannot be indefinitely repeated.

THE HOUSEHOLD APPOINTMENTS.

DISCUSSED BY THE KING.

The Times' Parliamentary Correspondent writes:—The Prime Minister, who returned to Downing street from Chequers yesterday morning, afterwards had an audience of the King at Buckingham Palace. It is understood that one of the subjects under discussion was that of the appointments to the Royal Household.

Three of these appointments have already been made—the Treasurer, the Controller and the Vice-Chamberlain of the Household—but there still remain to be filled a number of offices, including those of Lord Chamberlain, Lord Steward, Master of the Horse, Lords-in-Waiting, Captain of the Honourable Corps of Gentlemen at Arms and Captain of the King's Bodyguard of the Yeoman of the Guard. When Mr. Macdonald formed the Labour Government it was announced that all the Household appointments, with the exception of the Treasurer, Controller and Vice-Chamberlain, would be of a non-political character during the Labour Administration, and the appointments were made by the King. This course had been suggested by The Times in a leading article a month earlier, when it was suggested that the simplest and best solution of the problem would seem to be for the Prime Minister to leave the appointments to the unfettered and personal choice of His Majesty.

It is, indeed, adds the Correspondent, very generally hoped that when the remaining Household appointments are announced it will be found that the departure inaugurated by Mr. Macdonald has been carried out by his successor.

LORD BEATTY TO RESIGN.

SIR OSMOND DE BROCK AS FIRST SEA LORD.

The Daily Mail understands that Earl Beatty, the First Sea Lord of the Admiralty, intends to resign at the end of the year. It is anticipated that his successor as First Sea Lord will be Admiral Sir Osmond de Beavoir Brock, at present Commander-in-Chief in the Mediterranean.

Lord Beatty will probably be invited to take up one of the important Dominion Governorships which will become vacant in the near future.

GENERAL DAWES ILL.

A SUCCESSFUL OPERATION.

NEW YORK, Monday.

General Charles G. Dawes, Vice-President elect, was operated upon yesterday in Chicago Hospital for hernia. The operation was successfully performed, but he will have to remain in bed a fortnight. In the recent camaign General Dawes carried almost the whole burden of speech-making for himself and President Coolidge. He was taken ill suddenly, and the operation was performed shortly afterwards with a local anæsthetic. When it was completed he dictated a reassuring message to the President.—(Reuter)

DAY OF THE POLLS.

British should be got to do it, as action by the British would have the effect of uniting the Irish nation. General Macready so represented the situation to the British Government, and at the behest of England, as the Republicans contended, the attack on the Four Courts was begun by the Free State. The Republicans had pressed again and again for the publication of the correspondence that passed between the British Government and the Free State Government at that time.

Mr. Ruttledge next quoted extensively from speeches of members of the Government to show that whatever they might say now they had believed in the existence of the Irish Republic in 1921. He quoted the following extract from a letter written by Mr. O'Higgins to Mr. Pat. O'Keeffe, then Secretary of Sinn Fein, in 1921,—"Sinn Fein as a political organisation in the Parliamentary elections of 1918 and 1921 put forward candidates in every constituency pledged to the Republic." Mr. O'Higgins was at the time Assistant Minister of Local Government, said Mr. Ruttledge. In 1914, he continued, Mr. Hyde wrote in "Irish Freedom" as follows—"The Irishman who consents to partition is a traitor, and must be dealt with as such."

"Now, who are the traitors?" asked Mr. Ruttledge, amidst cheers. "And on which side are all the inconsistencies?"

Having dealt with the economic programme of his party, he said:—"It is true that for a time we have gone down before the Imperial forces. Militarily our powers have to a limited extent been curbed by force, but not by the will of the people." Mr. Hogan, he added, the other day mentioned that certain people would have to get out of Ireland.

"He mentioned my name among others," said Mr. Ruttledge, "but I tell Mr. Hogan that with all his forces of the Empire he did not drive me out before, and he will not do it in the future either."

Mr. Ruttledge concluded by saying that he did not, as acting-President of the Republic, want to make promises that the Government of the Republic would not fulfil within a definite period. It was in their mind, however, that six months after they got control of the Government of the country they would be able to issue an appeal to their exiled kin to return to Ireland, where there would be work for all. (Cheers)

RIVAL MEETINGS.

Rival meetings were held at Bangor and Ennis earlier in the day. They were marked by the usual demonstrations and counter demonstrations of enthusiasm for the two candidates. Mr. Mulcahy was subjected to a fair share of heckling at the outset of his speech, and there were occasional interruptions as the meeting advanced. Except for this the conduct of the rival crowds was orderly enough.

The Treaty, Mr. Mulcahy told his audience, had put the credit of the Free State as high in the financial markets as the credit of any other country in the world.

Referring to the works proposed to be put in hands by the Government in the near future, he mentioned that the drainage of the Barrow, which had been talked of for the last hundred years, would be started next summer. Next he turned his attention to the merits and demerits of the Republican candidate. When the fate of the Treaty was being decided, he said, Dr. Madden and other officers of the 4th Western Division signed a statement authorising General O'Duffy to vote for the Treaty. "How," he asked, "can you put your business in the hands of men who wobble like that?"

CORK CITY.

MINISTERIAL PARTY RALLY.

Candidates—R. Mc. Egan (Cumann na nGaedheal); S. French (Republican).

A very large crowd assembled in Grand Parade, Cork, last night, when a final rally of the Cumann-na-nGaedheal Party took place. Mr. M. J. Reale presided. When Mr. J. J. Walsh, Minister for Posts and Telegraphs, was about to speak some excitement was caused by a woman, who shouted offensive remarks at him, but she was quickly hustled out of the crowd.

Mr. Walsh said that the Government might not have done all that the nation expected of them, but then the time was largely taken up with clearing away the mess that the people of Cork witnessed in 1922. Their first duty was to make the country safe for every unarmed person who wished to earn his living in peace. They ploughed through and cleared the country in no uncertain manner.

Their opponents had only a policy of negation. They robbed the people, and now they taunted them with their poverty. They hoped to rise to power through the misery of the people.

MINISTER FOR FINANCE.

Mr. Ernest Blythe, Minister for Finance, said that the irregular campaign that went on cost the country £50,000,000, and that was the reason the taxes were hard and there was so much unemployment. The Government had already done something in the way of providing employment, but if that problem was to be settled the people must stand by the Treaty. They would need to borrow money for such things as the Shannon scheme, but if people who had money thought the country was wavering they would hold on to their money.

"If the people turn from us," he continued, "we will not be able to carry on our work. By every means in our power we are building up. Our policy is not to pull down. The policy of our opponents, no matter how they may try to disguise it, is war. If they win there is bound to be war, although they tell us that England will not fight if the Treaty is rejected."

He supported the policy of war with England until the people had gained the right to decide their own destiny and their own affairs. They had that right now, and they could pass any law they liked. They had taken their place internationally at the League of Nations on a level with other nations.

He had seen where the anti-Treatyites would dispense with the salaries of the Judiciary. Were they going to put up an unpaid Judiciary? Would the judges have to depend on the bribes they would get? If judges were not paid, and paid well, how were they going to make sure that they would act impartially?

"We want honesty in the country," continued Mr. Blythe, "and we do not want this pretence that you can do things that cannot be done in any other country in the world." He was not anxious, he added, to see the same Government in power for all time, but if it was to be put out they wanted people who would take their place in the Dail and do the work of the Nation. The business people wanted the knowledge that their houses would not be burned, or that some fellow with a pistol would not come in and order them to fork out.

Mr. Michael Egan, the candidate, said that if their opponents got into power the first thing that would happen would be the scrapping of the Treaty. That would mean another war. Another thing that would happen would be that all pensions now being paid would be cut off with a stroke of the pen.

Senator Haughton said that the Government's interest was for the country's welfare, and they were always anxious to do everything for the advancement and prosperity of their native land.

PRINCE OF WALES TO VISIT SCOTLAND.

The Prince of Wales will shortly pay a visit to Scotland. According to present arrangements, he will leave St. Pancras on December 1, and will return to London from Scotland on December 5. The primary reason for the visit is that the Prince desires to attend the Edinburgh Fat Stock Show, which was postponed last year on account of the foot-and-mouth disease, but while he is in Scotland there will be a number of other engagements, the programme of which is not yet complete.

The Prince will attend a Masonic function in the Scottish capital on December 2, and there is some likelihood that he may have a Degree conferred upon him at the Edinburgh University. It is understood that His Royal Highness will stay with the Earl and Countess of Minto. The Earl of Minto has a ranch near that of the Prince of Wales in Alberta, and when His Royal Highness returned from his visit last year the Earl and Countess of Minto were his fellow-travellers.

LOTTERY CHARGE.

SWEEP CASE IN DUBLIN COURT.

LEGAL POINT ARGUED.

"Duggan's Dublin Sweep" is the subject of a lottery charge in the Dublin Courts against Mr. Richard J. Duggan, of 38 Dame street. For the defence it is argued that the sweep is not being run in this country, and that mere printing in Ireland does not constitute publication of "sweep" literature.

The opening of the case was heard yesterday in the Dublin District Court, before Mr. Cussen, LL.B. Mr. Duggan was prosecuted for unlawfully publishing a proposal or scheme for the sale of a ticket or tickets, chance or chances in a lottery, known as "Duggan's Dublin Sweep," on the Manchester November Handicap, which lottery was not authorised by Act of Parliament. The publication was said to have taken place on various dates, and in various places, since last July.

Mr. J. A. Costello (instructed by Mr. O'Flaherty, Chief State Solicitor's Office) prosecuted. Mr. J. C. R. Lardner, K.C. (instructed by Mr. John Hawthorne) was for the defendant.

IN AID OF ABBEY SCHOOL.

Mr. Costello said that the summons was brought under the Lottery Act of 1823 against the defendant for publishing the proposals of a scheme in connection with the sale of tickets for a sweep on the Manchester November Handicap in aid of the Kylemore Abbey School.

Mr. Lardner referred to the form of the summons, and said that the gist of the offence was one of publication, and in the facts submitted to him, he apprehended that there was a very important question of law to be argued, as to what was meant by "publication." The sweep was not run in this country, but on the other side of the water. Some printing was done here, and the real point, he thought, would be whether the giving of certain draft matter to the printer for having it set up constituted publication within the section. Mr. Duggan was anxious to meet the case in the fairest way possible, and he (Mr. Lardner) would like to go into the law.

The case was adjourned till Saturday next.

OBITUARY.

DR. FRANCIS J. O'REILLY.

We regret to announce the death of Dr. O'Reilly, of Trim. Although in his 79th year he was in robust health until Thursday last, when an attack of cerebral hæmorrhage occurred. Qualifying in 1868, and becoming a Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons in 1885, he enjoyed a large practice in Meath and the adjoining counties. He was the pioneer of renal surgery in Ireland. He has given three sons to the medical profession, his youngest son succeeding him in Trim. His loss will be keenly felt by all classes throughout the County Meath.

MR. ALBERT R. WAYTE.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Albert Richard Wayte, which took place yesterday at his residence, Iona road, Glasnevin. Mr. Wayte had been laid aside for the past four or five months by a painful illness. He was a member of a well-known Dublin family. In his early days he visited many foreign lands, and was married in America to a Dublin lady, who now survives as widow. He was devoted to athletics and cycling, and in the latter placed many records to his credit. For many years past he was successfully engaged in the motor business, and he and his brothers were the originators of the "Yellow" and "Taxi" which are so well known on the streets of Dublin. Mr Wayte leaves two sons and five daughters. Two of the latter are married.

MR. GEORGE SMITH.

The death of Mr. George Smith, at Bermuda, is announced. Mr. Smith, who had formerly served in the Royal Engineers, for over thirty years was Clerk of Works to Trinity College, Dublin, and resided at College Gardens, Lansdowne road, Dublin.

THE EDUCATION BILL.

CORK TEACHERS' VIEWS.

A deputation, consisting of Messrs. Jones, Daly, M.A., and Hurley, and Miss Moynihan, from the Cork branch of the Irish National Teachers' Organisation waited on Mr. J. J. Walsh, Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, in Turner's Hotel, Cork, yesterday, to place before him the views of the Association in regard to the new Education Bill.

Mr. Hurley said that they were very keen about a Compulsory Attendance Bill, but on looking at the percentage of attendances they found that only 70 out of every 100 children were present at school every day.

Mr. Jones said that there was no use bringing children to school if books were not ready. The charter of the Commissioners of Education enabled books to be supplied at half-price, but the Commissioners paying the other half, but for the past twenty years the Government had ignored that provision. They would be satisfied if they got books at half-price.

Miss Moynihan drew attention to the fact that convent teachers were not entitled to pension.

Mr. Daly asserted that the Government were not doing their part with regard to school buildings.

Mr. Walsh, in reply, said that he was in full sympathy with the points raised, and he suggested that they should forward to him a written statement on the matter, and he would use his influence with the Minister of Education with a view to having the points incorporated in the bill.

LONGFORD EX-SERVICE MEN.

The Longford Legion of Ex-Service Men sent a wreath of Flanders poppies by special messenger (Mr. Alick E. Sherrin), to be placed at the Memorial Cross in College Green, Dublin.

Arrangements have been made by the Longford ex-Service men to hold a Requiem Mass in St. Mel's Cathedral on Friday, 21st November, for the Longford men who fell in the war. The parade will take place at 10.30 a.m., headed by the Foresters' Band, and the men will march through the principal streets of the town. Military decorations will be worn, as well as Flanders poppies.

ARMISTICE CELEBRATION AT NEW ROSS.

On Sunday an Armistice celebration, organised by the local branch of the Irish Legion of ex-Service Men, took place at New Ross. A numerous body of the Waterford Legion, with two bands, attended, and the local brass band with representatives of all classes took part in the demonstration. General Doran, C.B.; Col. Tyndall, Capt. Roche, Capt. Place, M.C.; Capt. Deane Drake, Capt. McDonald, Lieut. Hearn, Lieut. McCormack, and Mr. Hennessy, M.C., headed the procession, which marched to Mass at the parish church after the two minutes silence had been observed on the quay. Very Rev. Prior Crotty, O.P., Waterford, who had been Chaplain to the Irish prisoners at Limburg, subsequently addressed the ex-Service men, paying a warm tribute to "his dear boys," who had so cheerfully borne the trials and hardships of four awful years in a German camp.

Subsequently the procession was re-formed and visited the Catholic and Protestant graveyards where wreaths were deposited and the "Last Post" sounded.

CLARE HOUNDS "HELD UP."

News of an extraordinary occurrence reached Ennis on Monday. It appears that while the Clare hounds were being conveyed from Newgrove, Tulla, to a meet at Ballyline, they were met by some men who held them up, and compelled the two men in charge to bring the hounds to a wood. Here they were detained for some hours, after which they were set free, unharmed. As a result of the "hold up," the meet had to be abandoned.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

No British Films.—Except for the production of "news" and educational films, no cinema studios are working in Great Britain.

Sailed to Death.—Miss Sarah Ann Hopkinson, aged 26, who sailed in the liner Montcalm, to join her prospective husband in Montreal, died at sea when two days from port.

Mystery of a Yacht.—Found drifting derelict near the mouth of the Humber, the sailing yacht Comus was towed into Grimsby, where she was claimed by Mr. Sidney Roberts, of Ottringham. The owner states that a strange man was seen taking the boat to sea from the creek, in which she had been left at her moorings.

Parish Church in Peril.—A fire broke out in the ancient Parish Church of Ashford yesterday morning. The gas metre near the northern porch mysteriously caught fire. Fortunately someone was in the entry at the time and gave the alarm, otherwise the resultant explosion would have wrecked the church. The main was promptly disconnected and the fire soon subdued.

Fatal Revolver Accident.—Lieutenant Evan John Stanley Lloyd (aged 22), Royal Artillery, of Ludlow, was discovered dead in an armchair at his quarters at Larkhill Camp. A discharged revolver lay on his thigh, and on the floor were materials used for cleaning the weapon. A bullet had passed through his heart. The inquest returned a verdict of accidental death.

Public Benefactor Dead.—Mr. Arthur Taylor, a well-known Manchester merchant and an enthusiastic supporter of improved facilities for outdoor recreation for the poorer classes, died yesterday. He was instrumental in securing sixty playing spaces for lads fourteen years ago. He opposed Mr. Clynes in the Conservative interest in North-East Manchester, and was defeated by 205 votes.

Well-Known Author Divorced.—In the Divorce Court yesterday, Mrs. Joan Katherine Thurston was granted decree nisi with costs against her husband, Mr. Ernest Charles Thurston, otherwise Ernest Charles Temple Thurston, the author, who did not defend. Mrs. Thurston stated she married respondent in 1911. He was divorced by his first wife, Katherine Cecil Thurston. Petitioner and respondent lived happily until he engaged a private secretary named Miss Emily Cowlin two years ago. Petitioner went to India thinking he might tire of Miss Cowlin, but while there she received a letter from her husband appealing for a divorce.

Fatal Leap from Train.—At an inquest in Aldershot, Trooper William John Livingstone, 3rd Scottish Dragoon Guards, aged 20, who died, following injuries received by leaping out of a moving train whilst being conveyed to Aldershot under escort, he having been sentenced to 15 days' detention. It was stated that on reaching the tunnel between Brookwood and Aldershot Livingstone suddenly opened the carriage door and fell on to the line just as another train reached theirs. One of the escort said that deceased told him the night before he intended to jump out of the train, but witness did not take him seriously.

A PLAUSIBLE FRAUD.

PRISON FOR MAN WHO TRIED TO INTERVIEW THE KING.

Known in the North of Scotland and in London as the "monocle man" because of his aristocratic bearing and the fact that, when last year he attempted to interview the King at Balmoral, he wore a monocle, John Simpson Mitchell, was in Aberdeen Sheriff Court yesterday, sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment for obtaining £6 by false pretences from the Assistant Librarian of Aberdeen.

The accused man pretended that he was an American journalist, writing a series of articles for a Chicago newspaper, giving impressions of the temperaments of different peoples. He claimed to have written two novels "Realisation" and "The Conscience of Father John." He so ingratiated himself with the Assistant Librarian that he was asked to tea and stayed till 4 a.m. telling fanciful stories of his experiences in America, and, after borrowing five shillings to buy cigarettes, said that he required £2 ready cash to pay his lodging. He promised to repay Forbes as soon as he obtained payment for a series of newspaper articles, which he claimed to have written.

Forbes, being thoroughly deceived, said two pounds was not enough and handed the accused man another £5 15s.

The prosecution stated that Mitchell, who is aged only 25, had eleven previous convictions—five of them in London—and was released from Peterhead only a few days before he committed the fraud upon the librarian. Without having any money, he installed himself in lodgings costing 35s. a week, apparently being determined to live in as great a degree of comfort as he could at the expense of other people.

MOTORS IN THE SAHARA.

OPENING UP THE DESERT.

French efforts to establish a regular motor car route across the Sahara are being continued, and at the end of the week another expedition will leave Colomb-Bechar, the railway terminus in Southern Algeria. Additional interest is being given to the expedition by the fact that Marshal Franchet d'Esperey is one of the members of the mission, which is being conducted by M. Gradis.

The party will travel in four six-wheeled cars, and will follow the route already traversed by M. Gradis in six-wheeled cars last year, via Beni-Abbes, Adrar, Taourirt, Ouallen, and Tessalit, joining the Niger near Bourem. This has proved to be a much shorter route across the Sahara than the old camel track further eastward, via the Hoggar, but has hitherto been impracticable owing to the wide distances between the wells. After reaching Bourem, the expedition will proceed south-eastwards down the Niger, via Gao, Niamey, and Gaya, then crossing the river and travelling southward through Dahomey to Kotonou, on the coast.

M. Gradis, besides studying the possibilities of motor car traffic, will also make investigations as to the possibility of linking up Algeria with the Guinea coast by aeroplane.—(Reuter.)

THE ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY.

This evening at eight o'clock the annual meeting of the St. Vincent de Paul Society will be held at the Mansion House, Dublin, when an appeal will be made to the charitable public for assistance to enable the Society to continue its efforts among the deserving poor. The Society's motto is no religious discrimination, and the only title to relief is poverty.

The Society's work is carried on by voluntary workers, and some idea of the extent of that work is found in the fact that during the past year 17,782 persons were relieved, 37,238 visits were made to the poor in their homes, and a sum of £11,330 was distributed in provisions. In addition, the Society is responsible for the upkeep of the large orphanage at Glasnevin. No expense is incurred in the distribution of help, so that subscribers may be assured that every penny subscribed by them goes to the relief of distress.

The speakers at to-night's meeting will be the Attorney-General, Mr. Hayes, Speaker of the Dail; Mr. John Good, T.D., and Mr. Edmund Swayne, K.C., and a special appeal will be made to the public, in view of the approach of the winter and the extent of unemployment in the city.

MR. CHESTERTON ON MILLIONAIRES.

Lecturing at Westminster Cathedral Hall, Mr. G. K. Chesterton said that, if total abstinence really did produce American millionaires, there was a curse and judgment on it. However, he did not accept the explanation that these men became millionaires simply by sitting still and drinking lemonade.

Some people, said Mr. Chesterton, attributed the evils from which the world suffered to lack of education, whereas the fact was that they had too much education of the wrong sort.

A cheque for £10 drawn on the Bow street Reward Fund was presented by Sir Charteres Biron at Bow street Police Court to Police Constable Thomas Tresh, "D" Division, in recognition of his pluck in stopping a runaway horse and van in Dorset street, Marylebone, London.

FAILURE OF CROPS IN CONNEMARA.

DISTRESS REPORTED.

At the quarterly meeting of the Galway County Council on Saturday, the Rev. Father White, P.P., Roundstone, who attended, asked the members to take measures to cope with the distress that existed in Connemara. He had been before the Council before, and asked the Council to pass a strong resolution to the Government requesting them to come to their aid. The Council passed the resolution, but nothing had been done. The distress was acute on account of the turf failure in the ancient Parish Church of Ashford yesterday morning. The gas metre near the northern porch mysteriously caught fire. Fortunately someone was in the entry at the time and gave the alarm, otherwise the resultant explosion would have wrecked the church. The main was promptly disconnected and the fire soon subdued.

DOCTORS AS M.P.'S.

CONSERVATIVE, 7; LABOUR, 4; AND INDEPENDENT, 1.

By A Medical Correspondent.

The return of Sir George Berry for one of the three Scottish Universities seats completes the dozen of medical men in the House of Commons, a number which was reached in the last Conservative Administration, but has never been exceeded.

The full list with the constituencies is as follows:—

Dr. Graham Little (London University).
Prof. Sinclair (Belfast University).
Sir George Berry (Scottish Comb. Universities).
Dr. Walter Elliott (Glasgow, Kelvingrove).
Dr. Haden Guest (Southwark, North).
Dr. Drummond Shiels (Edinburgh, East).
Dr. Fremantle (Hertford, St. Albans).
Sir Henry Jackson (Wandsworth, Central).
Sir Richard Luce (Derby).
Dr. Salter (Bermondsey, West).
Dr. T. Watts (Manchester, Withington).
Dr. J. H. Williams (Llanelly).

Doctors as a class rarely have the time, and still more rarely the inclination, to nurse a constituency. Far from proving a good advertisement for practice, his patients are apt to grudge the dual claim on their doctor's time and thought.

It is, therefore, not surprising that the first three in the list have reached port in the quiet waters of a University postal vote.

Of the other nine, three may be said to have embraced a political career, for one (the fourth on my list) is Scottish Under-Secretary for Health, the fifth was private secretary to the late Minister of Health, and the sixth has only just taken his medical degree.

Three of the remaining six are not in general practice. One (No. 7) is a retired health officer of wide experience; the eighth was recently Mayor of a Metropolitan borough, and the ninth a consulting surgeon who directed the medical services in Egypt during the war.

LONDON PANEL PRACTICE.

Of the three practising doctors, the tenth (Dr. Salter) has a large panel practice in the poorest of the London boroughs. The eleventh lives in Manchester, and the last in Carmarthen.

The distribution among political parties is: Conservative 7, Labour 4, Independent 1. They will, however, unite on the common ground of medical interest to form a medical committee of the House of Commons, to the meetings of which Lord Dawson and Sir Henry Craik are always invited.

No one can say that this group of doctors in Parliament, though small, does not represent very well the different grades of medical practice.

FOUR-MASTER IN DUBLIN.

FINE SIGHT IN THE PORT.

Quite a number of sailing vessels have entered the Dublin Port of late, but the largest for a long time is the four-master Omega, from Callao, Peru, which is at present in the Alexandra Basin discharging cargo of guano for Messrs. W. H. and M. Goulding.

The cargo, which is of considerable value, is returned at 3,800 tons, and it is expected that it will take a considerable time to unload, as it is in bags, which are taken up from the holds by a slow process.

The vessel, which was beautifully picturesque entering the Bay under full sail, took exactly eight weeks in the trip from Peru, and on the voyage some very heavy seas were experienced. The crew of twenty-two hands comprises twenty-one Peruvians and one Finn, and the master and officers are Germans. When the guano is discharged the Omega will proceed light to Cardiff to take in a cargo of coal for ports in Peru.

"WINDJAMMERS" NOT OBSOLETE.

The presence of this large sailing craft draws attention to the fact that, although many people thought that the Great War had terminated the usage of such vessels, there is a tendency to return to the type. Lloyd's Register shows that during the last two years over two hundred sailing vessels were built in various parts of the world. The majority of these are of small capacity, but it is claimed that they are cheaper and more suited to certain classes of trade than steamers.

The present price of coal and rates of wages obtaining are also leading towards a new tenure of life for the sailing ship. The high masts of the Omega can be seen for a considerable distance, and the vessel herself is an object of much interest to those who visit the port.

BEQUESTS TO IRISH CHARITIES.

Mr. James William Copland, of 4 Foster place and 41 St. Stephen's Green, East, Dublin, stockbroker, President of the Dublin Stock Exchange from 1891-8 and in 1906, a prominent Freemason and chairman of the directors of Mount Jerome Cemetery, who died on June 2 last, aged 80 years, left personal property in England and the Irish Free State valued at £3,765. The testator left £20 to the Masonic Orphan Boys' School, Ireland; £20 to the Masonic Orphan Girls' School, Ireland; £20 to the Victoria Jubilee Masonic Fund; £20 to the Orthopædic Hospital, Ireland; £20 to the Steward Institute for Imbecile Children.

VOICES OF THE DEAD.

How many people know that they can still buy gramophone records of the ditties sung by Dan Leno, who died twenty years ago?

He is only one of many celebrities whose art has been preserved and whose voices, although silent, may still be heard. Among those featured in "His Master's Voice" historical catalogue, just out, are—

Lord Roberts.	Madame Patti.
President Wilson.	Joachim.
Sarah Bernhardt.	Sir Beerbohm Tree.
Caruso.	Lewis Waller.
Edward Grieg.	Canon Fleming.
Theodore Roosevelt.	Saint-Saens.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

REPUBLICANS AND ENGLAND.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—Sir Nevil Macready's statement that, if the Treaty had been broken in 1921, preparations were made for the shelling of Dublin, if that were deemed a military necessity, should compel Irish Republicans to give some answer to a question which is of vital interest to every citizen of the Irish Free State. Republicans assert that, if their party were elected to govern the Free State, their first act would be to repudiate the Treaty. This would amount to a declaration of war against Great Britain. We have a right to ask Republicans what their policy would be in case Great Britain accepted the challenge. Suppose a British battleship appeared at the mouth of the Liffey with an ultimatum that, unless the Treaty were observed, Dublin would be shelled, what would the Republican Government do under the circumstances? Would their reply be, "Shell away!" If so, let them tell us in time what we are to expect if we vote for them—Dublin in ruins.

We must remember that things are very different now from what they were during the late rebellion. Then Ireland was part of the United Kingdom, and had to be treated as such. The Crown forces could not attack every Irishman indiscriminately. Every Irishman must be assumed to be a loyal and peaceful citizen until it was proved that he was a rebel. The business of the Crown forces was to hunt down rebels and to protect loyal citizens. Their great difficulty was to distinguish between the two; but now all this is changed. Southern Ireland is now a separate political entity, with a separate and representative Government.

The whole State can, and will, be held responsible for the acts of its elected Government. War with Great Britain would be a very different thing now from what it was a few years ago. How long could we hold out against a naval blockade and the shelling of our coast towns? If to vote Republican mean to repudiate the Treaty; if to repudiate the Treaty means to provoke war with Great Britain; if to provoke war with Great Britain means the destruction of the Irish Free State—we have a right to ask Republican candidates if they are prepared to face these consequences. We should certainly receive no help or sympathy from other nations. The "rebel" would say: "They deliberately broke their Treaty; they challenged Great Britain with their eyes open; let them abide by the result."—Yours, etc.,

DUBLIN'S MUSICAL FUTURE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—Mr. Glover's long absence from among us must be sufficient excuse for some of his remarks and suggestions made at a recent meeting of the Dublin Rotary Club. He suggests that the building of a fine concert hall and the establishment of a municipal orchestra, at a cost of about £15,000 a year, should be the work of the municipality. He overlooks the effort of the late Corporation to help Dublin to preserve its old reputation of being one of the most musical cities of the world. They promoted a bill to enable them to build a concert hall which would be a credit to the city. The ratepayers turned down the scheme; they did not want it. The Municipal School of Music was established, and the officials can tell what support it got.

Mr. Glover overlooks the absolute failure (through want of public support) of many musicians since the days of Sir Robert Stewart and Joseph Robinson to keep the fame of Dublin as a musical city alive. We all remember the gallant effort made by Signor Esposito to establish an orchestra that would hold its own with any in the world. If Mr. Glover had heard this orchestra, under the able leadership of Signor Esposito, play such works as "The Finlandia" Overture of Sibelius, the Leonora No. 3 Overture, "Fingal's Cave," "Meistersinger" Overture, Good Friday music of "Gotterdammerung," the "Ride of the Walkurie," and many other works, he might have spared us the taunt that we had no great Irish symphonic conductor to conduct a band. True, Signor Esposito is not an Irishman, but his long residence among us and his great work for music in Ireland make him as Irish as the Irish themselves.

Mr. Glover has lost sight of the fact that musical taste has changed for the worse during the past twenty years. I wonder wh chance he would have in his walks through the Dublin streets of hearing Balfe or Wallace whistled or sung. A venture to say that it would be as unusual as hearing some of the tit bits from his "Regina, B.A." whistled or sung in the streets of London. In Dublin he will hear such classics (all bearing the London hall-mark) as "Horsey, keep your tail up," and "What do you do on Sunday, Mary?" whistled and shouted almost every street.

We have only to think a little and we can account for the falling away from the reputation we once had as a musical city. It should be the aim of all music-lovers to bring back to our city its past reputation of being a cultured musical centre. In the present state of things this seems impossible. I am afraid that Mr. Glover's suggestion of the building of a concert hall and the organisation of a great municipal band by the municipality would not mend matters. I submit that it is the duty of the State to try to bring about a better condition of things. The responsibility for the education of the people lies on the State. The inhabitants of nearly all countries hold that music should be part of the people's education. This applies to the Irish people in an especial manner. We are a musical people at heart, and, in the little experience I have had, I found that the art of music can touch the feelings of the Irishman in a way that the sister arts never can.

I know many who are looking out for a move on the part of the State to redeem the promises made to do certain things when the strings of power came into their hands. It is hoped that the chance now offered to do something for art and culture will be taken. Perhaps, we might express a hope that the State should acquire a site, while still some remain, start the building of a hall at once, and do something to relieve unemployment. I am sure that, if things were done on proper lines, the effort to revive the musical taste of the people would be a great success, and that before very long the revenue derived from the renting of the hall, plus the amusement tax, would be more than enough to pay the sinking fund and interest on cost of building.—Yours, etc.,

SWIMMER VERSUS ROD.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

Sir,—To-day's Irish Times tells us that a match has been arranged, at Bath, between an expert salmon fisherman and a first-class swimmer, in which the former undertakes, with ordinary salmon rod and tackle, to wear out and land in twelve minutes the latter, who, playing in the rôle of fish, will have the line attached to his body. The value of the demonstration of skill with the rod versus the strength and stamina of a swimmer depends, of course, upon the qualifications of the antagonists, and in each case this appears exceptional.

It may be of interest to your readers, however, to know that the idea is not new. Such a contest was carried through over twenty years ago at one of the old Kingstown regattas given by the Royal St. George Yacht Club. Mr. D. Henry Bailey, if I mistake not, was responsible for it, and he also had first-class material to work on. His fisherman was Mr. P. Chenevix Trench, and, if he could not play a salmon, I do not know who would. The "fish" was the late Mr. W. R. Richardson, a gentleman who was as much a sportsman at heart as he was a muscular in body. He was, too, a fine swimmer; he learnt the art as a boy at Portrush, and was, I think, the first accepted champion swimmer of England, winning the title, or its equivalent in those days, in a swim down the Thames, over a distance which I will not shock modern swimming susceptibilities by stating.

I do not think there was a time limit in this contest at Kingstown regatta in the long ago. It was just a sporting affair, and it enthralled the thousands—and there were many thousands then at the inshore sports of these regattas—who braved the contest from the Clubhouse, the Carlisle Pier and the Victoria Wharf. The struggle was long and arduous, and it ended by the fish winning; one heroic dive of Mr. Richardson's took Mr. Trench bodily, rod and all, out of the boat from which he was playing the swimmer. It was a great scene, the "fish's" triumph being rapturously received by Mr. Richardson's host of sailing friends and by the seafaring crowd generally.—Yours, etc.,

IRON HEEL ON BARCELONA.

MILITARY RULE.

A STRICT CENSORSHIP OF NEWSPAPERS.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

TOULOUSE, Monday.

The Republican and Separatist movements in the Barcelona district have completely subsided for the time being, according to the latest reliable sources of information evading the Censor's hands.

Since the outbreak of November 6th, when a handful of fanatics made a premature attempt at revolution, General Barrera, in command of the district, has conducted a vigorous campaign of repression. To date more than three hundred arrests have been made in Barcelona, in addition to two executions and eight courtsmartial, with life imprisonment as the verdict.

General Barrera holds full power to make any arrest he deems necessary without warrant or trial of any sort, as all Constitutional guarantees have been abolished in Spain since the Dictatorship was inaugurated.

General Barrera has a force of sixty thousand infantry and artillery to control the province, and, in addition, he can command the cruiser Rio de la Plata, which arrived in Barcelona three days ago, and four destroyers which accompanied the cruiser. The Province of Catalonia, with its entirely distinct language and culture, claims the right to be governed in a kind of Home Rule régime, which the Republicans—anxious to gain the support of this important industrial commercial district—are said to be ready to grant.

The names of Senor Blasco Ibanez and Senor Miguel de Unamuno are said to be contained in pamphlets secretly circulated in Barcelona and throughout Catalonia recently. These circulars promise the Catalians full State rights under the Republican Government.

According to the newspaper El Diluvio, which is still appearing, although with large blank spaces, as the result of the censorship, the Republican Party has three hundred thousand adherents in Catalonia. This figure is possible, but it does not indicate the actual strength of Republicanism there, for it means three hundred thousand unorganised leaderless men without arms, and who can neither vote, nor speak, nor express in newspapers their opinions, and are powerless against the heavily organised forces of military despotism.

Censorship is operating with full vigour. All newspapers are submitted to the Censor in Barcelona hours before press time, but they still come out with blank spaces, where the Censor has had last minute qualms about the material to be printed. The Censor is also said to be reading all personal letters and communications of every kind, and all Spaniards or foreigners going from Barcelona to Madrid, as well as those crossing the border into Spain from France, must pass a special frontier examination, and must show passports or military safe conducts, and are searched for arms.

BIG TRIAL AT REVAL.

149 COMMUNIST PRISONERS.

IRISH TIMES FOREIGN SERVICE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

REVAL, Monday.

The trial of 149 Esthonian Communists now proceeding at Reval is expected to continue for at least a fortnight, according to the opinion of members of the court.

The prisoners, who attempted to delay the proceedings in the opening days of the trial last week by singing revolutionary songs, have been sobered by the fact that one of their number has been handed over to the Field Court and sentenced to be shot. The sentenced man was deported to Russia a year ago. He attended a school for Communist agitators at Petrograd, the Third International paying his expenses and sending him back to Esthonia well supplied with funds, to enlarge the Esthonian Communist Party and turn out the Esthonian Government.

According to the Reval Commandant, the Esthonian Government will refuse to exchange prisoners with the Soviet Government after they have been sentenced. Since the opening of the trial the Soviet Government has been arresting Esthonian subjects, who are at present visiting Russia, hoping to exchange them for the Esthonian Communist now on trial. This is the Soviet Government's usual method of protecting the Baltic Communists. Aralov, the Bolshevik Ambassador for Latvia, is now negotiating for the exchange of imprisoned Latvian Communists for Letts imprisoned in Russia. Ten Esthonian Attorneys are defending the prisoners. The latter are guarded daily by soldiers with fixed bayonets and prison guards with drawn sabres.

From a preliminary examination, a large percentage of the Communists have been found to be suffering from an incurable disease, which, though not receiving medical treatment, has affected the brain. Others are degenerates. Many have lengthy criminal records. It is estimated that less than 25 per cent. of the prisoners are normal.

RECENT WILLS.

Canon Philip Mahony Murray, Parish Priest of Castlemartyr, Co. Cork, who died on May 2 last, left personal estate in England and the Irish Free State valued at £5,191. The testator left certain furniture, £300, and the annual income from £500 per cent. War Loan to his housekeeper for life. At her death the War Loan is to go to the Abbots of the Cistercian Order of Mount Mellary and St. Joseph's Roscr

LIQUOR BILL.

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED CHANGES.

In the Dail to-day the Intoxicating Liquor Bill will come up for final consideration. The measure is likely to have a quick passage through the Senate, and probably it will be passed into law at an early date.

If we assume that the bill will emerge from the Second House without serious alteration, the main changes that it will bring about in the licensed trade in the Free State may be summarised thus:—

HOURS—9 a.m. to 10 p.m. for weekdays in all publichouses in the Free State, with 9 p.m. closing time on Saturday night.

COMPLETE CLOSING—On Christmas Day and Good Friday licensed premises, including hotels, must be closed all day.

THEATRES—The 10 p.m. closing does not apply to theatre bars, but no one can be admitted to the theatre after 9.30 p.m.

TREVELLERS—The law as to bona fide travellers is not changed, except that a traveller cannot be supplied anywhere between 7 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Sunday, or at all on Christmas Day or Good Friday.

CREDIT—It is made an offence to sell drink on credit for consumption on the premises. The penalty is £10, with compulsory endorsement of the licence.

STANDARD BOTTLES—The Minister for Justice will fix a standard size for bottles in which intoxicating liquor is sold.

AGE LIMITS—No one under 18 years can be supplied with liquor for consumption on the premises. The age for taking out liquor in sealed vessels is raised to 15. Women under 18 (except certain near relatives of the licensee) and boys under 16 cannot be employed to sell liquor.

"OFF" LINCENCES—The penalty for allowing drink to be consumed on premises licensed only for "off" consumption is increased to £100 for a first, and forfeiture of the licence for a second offence.

ENDORSEMENTS—The Bill makes it imperative on the Court to inflict the penalty of endorsement of the licence for a first offence against over a dozen of its provisions, including all the more common breaches. A third endorsement entails forfeiture.

CLUBS—The hours for the sale of drink in clubs are the same as in publichouses, except on Sunday, when they are 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. The police can enter and search clubs at any hour on the order of an officer not below the rank of Inspector.

ILLICIT DISTILLATION—Any person convicted of an offence against the Illicit Distillation Act, 1831, may be sentenced to imprisonment with hard labour for six months for a first offence, or twelve months for a second. The Minister may, by order, specify areas and places where it will be against the law to sell, purchase, or have possession of, materials capable of being used as ingredients of illicitly distilled spirits. The penalties under this section are very severe.

METHYLATED SPIRITS—There are more stringent restrictions on the sale of methylated spirits, and the lowest fine is £10. Such spirits cannot be sold at all between 9 p.m. on Saturday and 9 a.m. on the following Monday. For drinking methylated spirits the only penalty is imprisonment for a period of six months.

The bill leaves the Dail virtually the same as it was introduced, with two important exceptions. First, the proposal to close the public-houses entirely on St. Patrick's Day was defeated, and then, on a free vote of the House, the provision known as "structural separation" was rejected. On the other hand, the bill as a measure of social reform has been strengthened in Committee by the provisions restricting the employment of young persons, the raising of the age for the "sealed vessel" trade, and insistence on the use of bottles of standard capacity.

PRESENTATION TO DEAN TALBOT.

ALL CREEDS REPRESENTED.

A presentation from the residents of Clogheen, irrespective of religious creed, was made to Dean Talbot, rector of Clogheen, before leaving for the Deanery of Cashel. The presentation, which was made by the Rev. Father Fitzgerald, P.P., Clogheen, consisted of a silver salver, with the names of the subscribers in an accompanying parchment scroll. The Rev. Father O'Donnell, P.P., Cahir, formerly parish priest of Clogheen, and a number of others, attended specially for the occasion.

Father Fitzgerald spoke in eulogistic terms of the Dean, and Father O'Donnell expressed best wishes for the Dean and Mrs. Talbot in their new sphere. Mr. Culmer Seymour also spoke.

Dean Talbot said that the thing that touched him most was that most of the subscribers were not his co-religionists, and he thought that this great fact ought to be published North of the Boyne to show that they in the South could live in unity and peace without any religious bickerings or rancour of any kind. He thanked Father Fitzgerald especially for making the presentation and for his very kind remarks in doing so.

Subsequently Dean and Mrs. Talbot entertained the party.

FISH MEAL PERIL.

IRISH PRODUCE INJURED.

MENACE TO PORK AND POULTRY TRADES.

The widespread use of fish meal as a feeding-stuff for pigs and poultry is said to have injured the prices of Irish produce in Britain. Bacon sent to England has been returned as being fish, instead of pork.

These statements were made at a meeting of the County Monaghan Agricultural Committee, which called on the Department of Agriculture to stop the importation and use of fish meal.

BACON RETURNED.

"FISH INSTEAD OF PORK."

At a meeting of the County Monaghan Agricultural Committee, Mr. Thomas Toal, presiding, Mr. H. Slowey drew attention to the fact that fish meal was being largely sold now throughout the country, and had come into their own county for pig feeding. The pork curers throughout the country have instructed their buyers to refuse to buy pork fed on fish meal. A number of cases had occurred in which bacon sent to England by some of these curers had been returned to them as being fish instead of pork.

The pork buyers had now instruction, not alone to watch this pork in the market, but to exercise the strictest care in the districts into which the meal was imported by any merchant. It was doing a grave injury to the Irish bacon industry, because if inferior bacon were sent across the Channel it could not command the price at which the old Irish bacon was sold. This might account for the small margin in price at the moment between Irish and American bacon.

Fish meal was also used for feeding poultry. It appeared that this meal imparted both to bacon and to eggs the taste of fish, and both were consequently considered inferior.

APPEAL TO DEPARTMENT.

The Chairman said that the matter was a very important one, and would very injuriously affect the trade of the country if some definite action was not taken. Action should be taken to prevent the importation of this meal, and merchants should be asked not to sell it, and farmers should be warned of the serious consequences of using it.

The Secretary said that he had heard that some of it was on sale in the Carrickmacross district, and that in one case pork was refused on account of it. He further stated that the impetus to the sale of this meal was given by the Northern Government before the bad effects of it were found out.

On the motion of the Rev. J. O'Daly, C.C., seconded by Mr. John Skelton, a resolution was passed requesting the Department to take steps to prevent the importation and sale of fish meal.

WOMEN POLICE IN IRELAND.

WHEN THEY ASSISTED THE R.I.C.

Superintendent I. Goldingham, of the Women's Auxiliary Police Service, addressing the Six Point Group at 92 Victoria street, London, yesterday evening, said that there had been only two Home Secretaries who had done anything to further actively the women police movement. Those were Sir John Simon and Sir Herbert Samuel, but there was no reason why other Home Secretaries should not be equally progressive.

Few people, she continued, are aware of the heroic work done by our women during the war and after. We started with £5, but since then we have raised between £40,000 and £50,000. Our women worked in munition areas as sentries and firemen, and often after working all day long would volunteer for night work in case there was an air raid. In 1920, when the were troublesome times in Ireland, and the Irish authorities appealed to London for women police, we sent out a body of fifty women, and they worked in Ireland with the Royal Irish Constabulary, going out with them in armoured cars and sharing many of their dangers.

Superintendent Goldingham also dwelt on the work of women with the Armies of Occupation. The end of the war, she declared, had left thousands of women in such a condition that they would have sold their souls for a lump of sugar. These women, flocking into the towns occupied by troops, created a problem that had needed for its solution the extensive employment of women police.

In concluding, the speaker regretted that many women police were not at present sworn in. The oath, she maintained, was a great aid in carrying out one's duty, and women should not be deprived of this aid when it was extended to men.

DUBLIN AND THE PROVINCES.

DUBLIN.

BETTING PROSECUTIONS.—In the Dublin District Court yesterday, Alexander O'Neill, 16 Bedford street, was fined £5 for loitering and frequenting Marrowbone lane for betting. James Wilson, 3 Lower Mount street, was fined £2 on a similar charge. For using rooms for betting purposes, Christopher Carter, 8 St. Augustine street, was fined £5.

FALSE "HALF-CROWN."—Francis Price, described as a pedlar, was committed for trial on bail in the Dublin District Court yesterday for tendering a counterfeit coin representing half a crown to a publican. He was also charged with tendering a rupee, resembling a florin in size and colour, but which was virtually valueless.

HOWTH URBAN COUNCIL.—At last night's meeting, Mr. Newcombe remarked that the Council ought to be consulted about the Greater Dublin proposals to extend the borough to include Howth. The financial statement showed a credit balance of £1,489.

PASSENGERS BY B. AND I. LINE, VIA LIVERPOOL.

ARRIVALS — Messrs. Lutgens, E. Harborow, Gore, Oliver, J. Flynn, Lansker, Connor, Young; Miss Walker, Miss Hobson; Messrs. Murray, Rourke, Carbery, T. B. Reynolds, A. E. Haws, Shiels, C. O'Brien, M. Whelan, Byrne, Neligan, Gordon; Miss O'Neill, Mrs. Bergin, Mrs. Conrad, Miss Webster, L. Browner, T. Kinsella.

DEPARTURES—Mrs. J. H. Webb, Miss Shortall, Rev. Canon Raven, Captain T. L. Pilkington, J. McIntyre, E. Lescher, Commander Murray, H. E. O'Dowd, J. Somerville, Herbert Sinclair, Mrs. Nicholson, Mrs. Blakeney, C. Brabazon, Miss Bennett, Miss Robb, Mrs. Everett, T. McAuley, E. O'Reilly, U. Levin, A. L. Wise, Mr. and Mrs. John Langley.

CONNAUGHT.

PRISON FOR GETTING DRUNK.—At Castlerea yesterday, Michael Devany was charged with being drunk at Castlerea. It was stated that the defendant had been fined £2 on two previous occasions for drunkenness. The Bench said that it was useless to fine the man. A sentence of a month's imprisonment was passed.

LEINSTER.

FALL FROM DAMAGED BRIDGE.—Death by drowning, there being no evidence as to how he got into the water, was the verdict at an inquest in Ferbane, King's County, into the death of James Sheridan, Cappalohan, Rahan, whose body was found in the River Brosna at Turraun. The deceased man had been missing since September 14, and it is supposed that when crossing a bridge damaged during the recent troubles, and not since repaired, he slipped into the River Clodiagh, a tributary of the Brosna, about a quarter of a mile from his house, and was carried away by the flood. A brother of the deceased man said that he had no enemies or monetary troubles, and that he had never shown any signs of mental weakness.

WEXFORD-ROSSLARE ROAD.—Wexford Rural District Council has decided to ask the Government to make a grant in aid of a scheme to construct a new road from Drinagh to Rosslare. The County Surveyor estimates the cost at £2,070. The new road would shorten the distance between Wexford and Rosslare by four miles.

A HEAVY-WEIGHT TURNIP.—A turnip, weighing twenty-two and a-half pounds, of the Lincoln Red Aberdeen variety, has been grown on Violet Hill Farm by Mr. Richard Seale, Johnstown, Co. Kilkenny.

RURAL COUNCIL PASSING.—In view of the pending abolition of the rural district councils, the Wexford body has decided not to appoint a vice-chairman or to fill the vacancies caused by resignations.

UNPAID AMUSEMENTS TAX.—R. J. Kenny, Ballinaloe, was fined £12 10s., with a recommendation that it be reduced to 10s., at a local court, for failing to have entertainment stamps affixed to tickets of admission to a sports meeting last July.

MUNSTER.

ARMISTICE COMMEMORATION.—An Armistice Memorial Service was held in the Presbyterian Church, Limerick, last Sunday morning. There was a large congregation. The sermon was preached by the Rev. A. W. Neill. After the two minutes' silence, a wreath was placed by an ex-Service man at the foot of the Roll of Honour. The Dead March in "Saul" was played on the organ. The Service closed with the Benediction and the National Anthem.

RELIEF DISTRIBUTED IN PUBLIC.—As he has not got an office, the Ennis Believing Officer distributed allowances to persons in the road at the County Home gates. The Clare Health Board has now directed him to use Ennis No. 1 Dispensary as an office.

DELICATE ASYLUM ATTENDANTS.—Complaint was made at a meeting of the Clare Mental Hospital Committee that male attendants were very frequently ill. An order was made that in future no certificates for illness would be accepted except those of the Resident Medical Superintendent, his assistant and the visiting physician.

LIMERICK HARBOUR COMMISSIONERS.—At an election of Limerick Harbour Commissioners to hold office for the ensuing two years, Messrs. G. E. Goodbody, G. R. Ryan, W. Holliday, J. H. Roche, and A. Cleeve were appointed to represent the importers and exporters, and Messrs. J. P. Goodbody, S. J. K. Rovcroft, F. J. Cleeve, J. N. Russell and F. J. Herriott to represent the Harbour ratepayers.

CLARE UNION OFFICIALS PENSIONED.—Clare County Board of Health has awarded a pension of £46 4s. to Bridget Haugh, a wardsmaid at Kilrush Despensary Hospital; a pension of £101 2s. 9d. to Nurse O'Callaghan, Scariff, and a gratuity of £611 11s. 3d. to Nurse Boland, Kilrush.

ULSTER.

BALLYBAY HIRING FAIR.—At the half-yearly hiring fair, held in Ballybay, County Monaghan, on Saturday, the supply exceeded the demand. Hiring was dull, engagements few, and wages were lower than at the last fair. Ploughmen were engaged at £16 and £17 for the ensuing six months; general farm workers at £13 to £15; junior male servants, £9 to £11; girls, outdoor, £12 to £14, indoor, £10 to £11 10s.; juniors, £8 to £10.

MONAGHAN FARMER DROWNED.—After nine days' search the body of Michael Boyle, Brackley, Ballybay, County Monaghan, has been recovered from the lough near his home. Boyle was a farmer, aged 48 years. At the inquest yesterday a verdict of death from drowning was returned. There was no evidence to show how the man got into the water.

Returns made in County Wicklow show that 136,500 sheep have been dipped this year. Last year the total was 104,000.

Last Saturday night two men entered the house of Thomas Patterson, 65, a farmer, living at Ballybum, Castlefinn, Co. Donegal, and robbed him of £40.

County Donegal Board of Health decided yesterday to increase the salaries of the Relieving Officers in the county to £40 a year. Two of the officers are already receiving that amount.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

RAIDERS FRIGHTEN THEMSELVES.—At a special court in Newry on Sunday William Halliday and Michael Fearon, Lisdrumgallion, were remanded on £100 bail, with two sureties of £50 each, on the charge of raiding the house of Thomas Loye at Carnmeen, near Newry, last Thursday. Loye stated he was sitting in his kitchen, along with eight other persons, when Fearon entered, wearing a cap, a false moustache and a trench coat. He asked the witness if he had any arms, and a shot then went off from a double-barrelled gun, the barrel of which could be seen in the doorway. The house was filled with smoke, and everyone was frightened. Fearon ran away, but returned in ten minutes' time and apologised. It was pleaded for the accused man that the "raid" was a joke.

GRANTS NO INDUCEMENT TO BUILDERS.—Newry Urban Council yesterday decided, in view of the recent Housing Act of the Northern Government, to consider at the next meeting of the Housing Committee whether it should continue the grant of £40 a house, or lend £100, free of interest for twenty-five years, to private builders as an inducement to built houses. The Clerk said that so far the subsidies had not induced any building, though in Portadown, where the Council granted only £30, plus the Government's £60, it had resulted in a good many houses being built.

MAJOR-GENERAL MONTGOMERY, J.P.—Major-General H. M. de F. Montgomery, C.B., G.C.M.G., Thornfield, Fivemiletown, County Tyrone, eldest son of the late Senator Montgomery, a member of Tyrone County Council, Clogher Guardians and Rural Council, has been appointed a Justice of the Peace.

NEW ROMAN CATHOLIC SCHOOLS.—Most Rev. Dr. MacRory, Bishop of Down and Connor, appealed in St. Peter's Cathedral, Belfast, on Sunday for funds for the erection of schools on the site of the Model School, which was destroyed during the Belfast disturbances. The site was acquired from the Northern Ministry of Education for £2,000, and the cost of the proposed buildings is estimated at £12,000.

EAST TYRONE RAID.—James Hughes, Clare terrace, and Patrick Donaghy, Linfield street, Dungannon, who were arrested and remanded in connection with the attempted robbery of Bernard Bigley near Dungannon, in which a man named Simpson was badly injured, have been lodged in the Crumlin road Prison, Belfast. They will be charged in Dungannon on Friday.

HACKNEY CAR AS CART.—Two farmers who took pork to Enniskillen on an outside car, not bearing the owner's name, were fined 1d. and 4s. costs each at a local court yesterday. It was explained that any vehicle on which merchandise is carried must bear the name of the owner.

POULTRY UNFIT FOR FOOD.—A fine of 40s. and costs was imposed on Francis M'Cardle, of Nevin street, Armagh, at the Belfast Summons Court yesterday, when he was prosecuted for selling poultry in an unsound condition and unfit for human consumption.

DUCKS PADDLE IN WATER SUPPLY.—It was reported to a meeting of the Omagh Rural Council last Saturday, that the Gortin water supply was liable to contamination. A resident in a letter stated that Gordin had no public water supply, except from a burn in which ducks paddled. No action was taken.

ELECTRIC LIGHT FOR NEWRY.—Newry Urban Council yesterday adopted a report from the Electricity Committee recommending the Council to proceed with a scheme for lighting the town by electricity at an estimate cost of £37,500.

KNOCK PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—The congregation of Dundela Presbyterian Church, Knock, Belfast, has invited the Rev. Edwin Augustus Elliott Burrows, of St. John's Presbyterian Church, Forest Hill, London, to be its pastor. Mr. Burrows is a native of Dublin, where the family was closely associated with the Adelaide road congregation. The vacancy at Knock is due to the retirement from active duty of the Rev. James Hunter, minister of the church for the last forty years.

At Enniskillen yesterday the following were sworn in as magistrates for Fermanagh:—Messrs. George Whaley, Hugh Montgomery Irwin and G. Elliit, sen.

TOWARDS IRISH PROSPERITY.

NATION'S CHIEF NEEDS:

INDUSTRY, ENERGY AND STABILITY.

The industrial spirit, hard work and national stability are chiefly needed if Ireland is to enjoy economic revival. So said Serjeant Hanna, Mr. Martin Maguire, barrister-at-law, and Mr. J. C. R. Lardner, K.C., in the discussion at last night's inaugural meeting of the forty-first session of the Solicitors' Apprentices' Debating Society at King's Inns.

The introductory paper was read by Mr. Patrick J. Loftus on "Industrial Progress." Mr. James Moore, President of the Incorporated Law Society, presided, and there was a large gathering, including the Chief Justice, and prominent members of the Bar and the solicitors' profession.

INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS.

INTERESTING DISCUSSION.

Mr. Loftus said that a policy of crippling Irish trade was manifested after the restoration of the monarchy in England. This policy first found its origin in politics, as the English Parliament was keenly suspicious of anything that might tend to increase the Royal powers. As Ireland was an independent kingdom, the English House of Commons had no direct control over its affairs, and there was constant uneasiness lest any power which the King acquired in Ireland should be used without the concurrence of the English Parliament or even against English liberties. It was, therefore, necessary that an attempt should be made to assert the right of the English Parliament to legislate for Ireland, and they accordingly found that in the years immediately following the revolution such an attempt was made, and the principle contended for was successfully, though unconditionally, established.

This policy of crippling Irish industries continued until the recent establishment of self-government in Ireland, except for the brief period covered by Grattan's Parliament. The eighteen years of Grattan's Parliament constituted a period of great industrial and commercial progress in Ireland.

The Auditor then followed the decline of industries in Ireland, except in the North-East corner, where, he said, the progress was due to the fact that the Ulster people, owing to their different system of land tenure, were able to amass sufficient capital to enable their industries to hold their place in face of foreign competition.

The great internal cause of the downfall of the industries was the land system, which was aggravated tenfold by the curse of absenteeism. Rack rents took from the tenant all his surplus profits. The other cause of the industrial decay was the power of the English Parliament to legislate for Ireland. These two great obstacles had now been removed; the tenant was now lord of the soil and Ireland was free to make its own laws.

Having referred to high taxation, Mr. Loftus said that, with the present position of their national finance, their manufacturers should be called upon to extend their trade without assistance from the National Exchequer. Labour should realise that Irish industries could not pay a greater wage than their foreign competitors. Labour should realise that vexatious disputes were ruining the nation's trade and banishing any hope of industrial revival. Irish manufacturers and traders should organise and co-operate and provide cargoes for ships that had opened up direct communication with many foreign countries. Advertising and publicity was an absolutely essential cog in the machinery of industrial distribution.

AGAINST PROTECTION.

Serjeant Hanna, K.C., in proposing the vote of thanks, said that they could not build up a boot business in the Free State by making everybody pay 2s. 6d. or 3s. extra on every pair of boots they purchased for the next two or three years. It was practically impossible to force industry upon the nation by protection. He did not know the reason of the sixpenny tax on parcels, but it was a very serious matter for lawyers. Occasionally he received a law journal and had to pay a sixpenny tax on it, so that it meant an addition of something like 12s. a year to their subscription rate for law journals, which were not produced in this country. He could understand a tax on luxuries, but he could not understand by what principle they should pay duty on the things the country did not produce, and things which were necessary for them.

He could not agree that the industrial success of North-East Ulster was due to land tenure. There was an industrial spirit there which they did not find in the rest of Ireland. The industrial spirit was not in the Free State; it did not exist, and some would not like to see their valleys covered with factories and industries.

HARD WORK WANTED.

Mr. Martin Maguire, seconding the motion, said that there was no use blinking their eyes to the fact that in the Saorstat they were not used to the blue or brown overalls of industry. Everybody here seemed to want a Government job, not that they might work for the Government, but that they might provide for the rest of their lives and lead a life of dignity and ease. If Ireland was ever to be made a great industrial country, it would be done only by hard work.

If those responsible for the education of the people awakened them from the indifferent position in which they were, and made them alive to the necessity of settling down to serious work, they would have done something just as important as the revival of the ancient tongue in the schools. These were critical days; the sands of destiny were running fast, and a new Ireland was growing up out of the recent ashes. The people had shown in recent years that they had the strength to govern, and that they had the grace to obey. They should build, they should work, and keep working, if they were ever going to make the Ireland of the future what they all desired; and if each man tried to do his job they need have no fear, for they would one day wake up and find that at length they had become a great industrial nation, prosperous and strong, as well as free.

THREEFOLD STABILITY.

Mr. J. C. R. Lardner, K.C., who proposed that the Solicitors' Apprentices' Debating Society was worthy of support, said that he agreed with the Auditor that industrial progress was only possible by stability—stability of law, finance, and conditions. Stability of law had come with their new courts; stability of finance was growing daily, as they could see by the position of the National Loan. Stability of conditions was the one thing wanted, not only amongst employers, but amongst employés.

As a proof of the latter, he referred to Guinness's Brewery—the largest brewery in the world, and the most contented employés in the world, and the one industry in Dublin which they could point to as never having a strike.

They could not force industry; they could not create it; it should spring from improved conditions, from what might be called stabilisation of the race, of law, and of finance.

Mr. Gerrard Norman Reddin, solicitor, in seconding the resolution, said that he held that workers should have rights in industry which was enriched by their work; that industry should be on a co-operative basis.

The resolution was passed unanimously.

PRIZE DISTRIBUTION.

The Chief Justice presented the following prizes:—Oratory—Law Society's Gold Medal and Special Certificate—Mr. Frederick W. Moorhead; Silver Medal and Special Certificate—Mr. Thomas Teevan; Society's Special Certificate—Mr. John S. O'Connor; Law Society's Special Certificate—Mr. Terence K. Liston. Legal Debate—President's Gold Medal and Society's Special Certificate—Mr. John S. O'Connor; Society's Silver Medal and Special Certificate—Mr. Patrick J. Loftus. Impromptu Speeches—Cussen Gold Medal and Society's Special Certificate—Mr. John S. O'Connor; Cussen Silver Medal and Society's Certificate—Mr. James A. Power.

Something Housewives Should Know

Unlike another extensively advertised brand of oats which is grown and packed abroad, WHITE'S WAFER OATS is a home-grown commodity, manufactured under ideal conditions by local labour.

WHITE'S WAFER OATS appeals to the consumer, not only on the ground that it is a product employing Irish labour solely in its growth and manufacture, therefore reducing unemployment in our midst; but it appeals even more strongly on its merits.

Climatic conditions in this country, combined with the exclusive methods employed in manufacture, make WAFER OATS bulkier, more succulent, sweeter, of better flavour, and of higher food value than oats which mature quickly in warmer and drier climates abroad.

ALL other oats, no matter where manufactured, are mere imitations of WHITE'S WAFER OATS, because WAFER was eight years in commerce before its first imitator. For purity and delicious flavour, it is still, at least, eight years ahead of its nearest rival.

DUBLIN THEATRES.

TWO MUSICAL REVUES.

A good revue was performed last night at the Theatre Royal. Mr. Thomas F. Convery has, in "On the Dole," a work which is akin to musical comedy. The story is about a discharged soldier who finds it difficult to obtain work, but who, when eventually engaged as a labourer on the roads, shirks work. The leading part is taken by Albert Burdon, than whom no more versatile or droll comedian has come before the Dublin public for a long time. He works his way through nine scenes, commencing with the demobilisation camp and ending as a dancing lecturer. The scene at the Labour Exchange is really very amusing where he again meets his old sergeant-major. The several scenes include some good dances and songs, in which Harry Clayton, Ada Burdon, Johnny Kavanagh (a female impersonator), Syd Railton, Jack Wakefield, Billy Russell, and Vie Vivienne play with success.

OLYMPIA THEATRE.

At the Olympia Theatre last night William Revill presented "London to New York," a musical revue. The music was well rendered, and the dances and ensembles were executed with ability. Pat Nash was the principal comedian, and figured largely in the five scenes. Peggy Hall, who first appeared as the typist at the "Celestial," was a good artist in that and other parts, and Bernard Cook, in the rôle of a wealthy traveller, lent an American atmosphere to the production. Nellie Anderson was vivacious as "an American crook." Stan Daniels was accorded a good deal of applause in his imitation of birds, but he excelled as a dancer. Will Henry and Billy Lynne, as American detectives, supplemented the comedy part of the revue. Other artists were Claire Henry, Winnie Buchanan and Charles Russell. The six Broadway Belles were a good combination in dancing and chorus work.

RATHMINES VARIETIES.

Since becoming lessees of the Rathmines Town Hall, the Dublin Entertainment Company has been providing excellent weekly variety entertainments. This week's programme is by Mr. Albert Lyon's "The Summits," a combination of seven artistes that has been appearing in England for four years. Their entertainment is varied, and is particularly strong in really good vocalism. A special feature is the "Whisper Walk" dance by Mr. Albert Lyon and Miss Ivy Westaby. This new dance, introduced by them in London recently, has become so popular that it has been filmed. The programme of "The Summits" will be changed for the second half of the week.

ABBEY GAELIC PLAYS.

SECOND SEASON OPENED.

There was an overflowing attendance at the Abbey Theatre last night when the Gaelic Dramatic League opened its second year's activities. The three plays produced went with even a better swing than at the best performances of last winter.

* * * * *

The first play, "The Parliament of Women," by "An Seabhac," was a breezy little comedy, the theme of which is indicated by the title. When the Woman of the House (Mrs. Fitzgerald) went out to parliament and the Man of the House (Taidhg O Scanaill) kept at home, it only needed the appearance of a mischievous Yankee to set up domestic anarchy, from which "Cait" learnt her lesson, though the author made the men the bigger fools.

* * * * *

The second piece was a musical episode, in which the popular ballad of "The Croppy Boy" was acted to the melancholy music of the old air. Muiris O Cathain played the tragic part of the betrayed boy, and Gearoid O Lochlainn was finely impressive as the Yeoman Captain. The make-up was remarkably effective, and the piece was a little triumph of stage-craft.

* * * * *

The last piece, in which most of the company had parts, was "His First Wife," by the well-known novelist. Mr. Padraic O Conaire, being a dramatisation of a short story in his book, "Seven Victories." The theme was simply the escape of two rebels, who pretend to be a honeymooning couple, one of the lads dressing as a girl. It gave scope for some rattling broad comedy, but the actors, mostly Munster folk, seemed a little uncomfortable with the Western idiom, and there were some halting passages.

* * * * *

As last year, the success of the performance rested very largely on Mr. O Scanaill's humorous acting. Mr. P. Brophy was excellent in a droll part, and Maire Ni Shiochain acted with a racy ease. During the evening there were some charming selections of Irish music.

The session said the satisfied audience coming away from the theatre, promises well, and many reflected that this was a really fruitful use of the romantic old idiom.

The Bishop of Salford, who is suffering from bronchitis, had a rather better day on Sunday, but yesterday morning his medical adviser reported that he is still seriously ill.

PHOSFERINE Wonderful for INFLUENZA

Whole Family Benefits

Mrs. Kelly, of 15, Fordyce Road, S.E., writes:—

"IT was during an epidemic of influenza and very bad winter colds that I first proved what a wonderful remedy and energiser Phosferine is. Myself and family seemed unfortunate, and somehow we seemed to have more than our share of illnesses. Someone suggested that I should give Phosferine a trial and I decided to do so. The result was far better than I had even hoped for. A decided improvement started at once and every member of the family benefited, for there was a marked difference in better digestion, better sleep and better nerves. Phosferine has certainly given us the necessary stamina to resist the maladies that before we seemed to catch so easily. The winter has now no fears for us for we know that Phosferine is a safeguard and we are never without it in the house." (October 21st, 1924.)

From the very first day you take PHOSFERINE you will gain new confidence, new life, new endurance. It makes you eat better, and sleep better, and you will look as fit as you feel. Phosferine is given with equally good results to the children.

CARL ROSA OPERA.

"SAMSON AND DELILAH."

The Carl Rosa Opera Company opened the third week of its season at the Gaiety Theatre, Dublin, last night, with a performance of Saint-Saëns' "Samson and Delilah"—the sole performance of this opera during the present season.

For this opera Miss Gladys Parr joined the company, the contralto section of the principals having been weakened through the illness of Miss Louise Lund.

Miss Parr has been seen in the part of Delilah in Dublin before, and Mr. Boland has taken the part of Samson here on more than one occasion. Mr. Boland, as a matter of fact, is particularly well suited by Samson's music, and his robust tones were heard to advantage last night. His tone hardened excessively now and then, but almost entirely he sang this arduous part with full satisfaction to the audience.

Miss Parr's Delilah was a satisfactory piece of work. She looked attractive, and, though her voice is not big, she sang the numerous difficult airs—a whole repertory for mezzo singers—very skilfully.

Mr. Appleton Moore's vigorous manner in action and vocal production stirred a new interest in the part of the High Priest. His clear ideas on the subject of the dramatic bearing of his part was specially helpful in this opera, which has at times more the form of an oratorio than a piece for the theatre.

Mr. John Kelly has not had many good opportunities in the operas produced this season, but last night his singing in the part of the "aged Hebrew" was an important element.

The opera was extremely well staged, with good ballets. As regards scenery, it was interesting to notice that the Carl Rosa Company believe that Samson and Delilah would have preferred shelter to the open air on that thunder-stormy night. Mr. Webber conducted. To-night: "The Tales of Hoffmann."

COST OF LIVING HIGHER IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The Ministry of Labour Gazette states that the cost of living figures in October, based on retail prices of commodities, fuel, rent, etc., showed an increase of four points, being 80 per cent. above pre-war level, as compared with 76 per cent. at the beginning of the month.

CHOTA NAGPUR MISSION.

The annual sale of work in aid of the funds of the Dublin University Mission to Chota Nagpur will be held in the Molesworth Hall, Dublin, to-morrow and on Thursday. Lunch will be served each day from one to three o'clock. There will be a wide variety of useful and ornamental articles for sale. Home-made sweets will be sold at very reasonable prices.

ROYAL DUBLIN SOCIETY RECITAL.

THE LENER QUARTET.

The Lener Quartet's performance of Ravel's quartet in F major made yesterday's recital worthy of remembrance. The recital was the second in the Royal Dublin Society's series of classical chamber music recitals, which this season again are taking place in the Theatre Royal. The large attendance yesterday showed that the members of the Society are not merely drawn by great names, such as that of Jacques Thibaud, but follow with interest the regular chamber music performances. The Lener String Quartet has, of course, a special reputation. This combination hails from Budapest, and its members are:—First violin, Jeno Lener; second violin, Joseph Smilovits; viola, Sandor Roth; 'cello, Jmre Hartman.

The idiom of Ravel's music came strangely to our ears a few years ago, but to-day it is in no wise disturbing, and it was possible to yield one's self wholly to the romantic beauty of the work. The Lener Quartet made it all sweetness, caressing those rounded phrases which the composer repeats again and again, as if putting them forward for fondling.

The same loving care had been given to the Schubert quartet in D minor, which was first on the programme. This is the quartet in which the theme of the slow movement is that used by Schubert in the song "Death and the Maiden." Very softly the Lener Quartet took it all, so that even the scherzo was made gentle and flowing.

What they made of the Haydn quartet this writer can not say, for it seemed wrong to cloud with any other impressions the exquisite memory of the Ravel music.

MONKS IN TROUBLE.

AMERICAN BENEDICTINES FAIL.

A Benedictine community at Richardton, North Dakota, has failed for over two million pounds. The monks lost heavily in farming operations, and sought in vain to recoup themselves by commercial operations.

The Official Receiver says it is hoped that means will be found to pay all creditors, who include other Orders, individuals, and banks in America, England, and Switzerland. Among the unsecured debts is a sum of £1,800 in the name of Rev. James Rowntree, St. Cuthbert's, Withington, Manchester.

Chief Petty Officer Telegraphist Cockrill Stocker and Petty Officer Garner, both from Chatham, were killed yesterday in Simons Town, South Africa, in a taxicab which collided with a dust-cart.—(Reuter.)

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE

LORD OFFALY'S FAILURE.

HOLLOW VICTORY OF SHAGREEN.

FROM OUR TRAVELLING CORRESPONDENT.

WARWICK, Monday Night.

Last year's Cambridgeshire winner, Lord Offaly, was a marked failure here this afternoon in a two mile event, the Kenilworth Handicap Stakes, in which he actually started joint favourite with Miwani. He was betted on with a great deal of spirit and it seemed that he was very confidently expected to win, but he was never able to extricate himself from the ruck and finished away down the course. So far he has been a very unremunerative subject to Gilbert Bennett, who bought him when Mr. Tyrrell sent him up at the Newmarket Sales.

This race was won in a canter by Harry Beasley, on Mrs. Arthur Bendir's Shagreen. This is the Charles O'Malley gelding to whom Polish Patriot failed by three parts of a length to give 5lbs. at Folkestone in the summer. There were indications that he was greatly fancied here and a good stake was won by his hollow victory. After Purple Image and Prince Sadim had come into the straight well clear Beasley brought up Shagreen, and drew right away, to win in a canter by four lengths from Purple Image, Prince Sadim finishing three lengths behind the second. Shagreen is evidently a very good stayer, indeed. Miwani ran as badly as Lord Offaly and is evidently not quite the horse he was last year.

Much of the racing was uninteresting. Woodend, who it was thought last season might be a classic colt, won the last race by a length, but he was receiving 6lbs. from the moderate Page Three, who was second, beaten a length, so there was no great merit in the performance. Woodend was Donoghue's second winner of the day, for he had previously won the Leycester Nursery on Tabor's La Melba gelding. This brought Donoghue's total of winn rs for the season up to 80, leaving him 26 behind Elliott.

Stanley Wootton won the two opening races with Palefroi and Tobermory, both being ridden by his successful apprentice, Sirett, and as William Nightingall won the Selling Nursery with Red Coil the Epsom trainers thus secured four races. Belsize started favourite in the race won by Palefroi, but he failed to get a place. The Belsize stable also backed Flighty in Tobermory's race, but the mare also failed to get a place. These two reverses, as well as that of Lord Offaly, made a bad day for Bennett's followers.

Racing of much the same character as we had this afternoon will be seen to-morrow here. THE PILOT is a likely winner of the Coventry Maiden Three-Year-Old Plate, and GRAND FLIER of the Banbury Three-Year-Old Handicap. In the Daventry T.Y.O. Plate I choose BILLINGHURST to beat Una Cameron.

THE CURRAGH.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

This week's meeting at the Irish headquarters marks the end of our flat racing season, and although, with the exception of the Cambridgeshire, which comes on for decision to-morrow, there is no event of outstanding importance, the sport on all three days promises to reach an interesting standard. Strong fields and keen competition will, no doubt, be the order, and a brisk wind up to the campaign may with some confidence be predicted. Special trains leave Kingsbridge each morning at 10.45, 11.25, and 11.45, and racing is due to commence at one o'clock. Selections for to-day are appended :—

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

Racing will be continued at Warwick to-day, where a fair programme is provided. The going is in quite good order, and fields again promise to be large. The chief event on the card is the Coventry Three-Year-Old Handicap, for which I like Creolian, Mafoota, Plumet, and Sopron. I doubt if the first-named is very reliable, though if he is in the mood he could probably win it. Mafoota appears on her best form to be well handicapped, but she finds difficulty to size up, as she seldom runs twice alike. Sopron was so easily at Hurst Park that if pulled out he may win again here. Wootton, however, is in great form at the moment, and, as the course and distance will just suit Plumet she must be my selection. In the Banbury Three-Year-Old Handicap, Bustle Up or White Coral would appear to have a good chance. The latter is well handicapped on her second to African Prince early in the year, but as she has missed so many engagements all may not be well with her. Selections :—

Banbury Handicap—Bustle Up.
Shipston Handicap—Kinsman.
Bourton Plate—Juvenile Silly.
Coventry Handicap—Plumet.
Daventry Plate—Hobey Hill colt.
Avon Stakes—Lord Aldborough.

SCHOOLS' CERTIFICATES EXAMINATIONS.

The results of the examinations held in 1924 for the Certificates of Proficiency in various grades awarded by the Leinster Branch, I.A.S.A., have been announced by that body. In the above list an advance was made last season, which was almost as emphatic as that recorded in 1923. The record number of candidates examined on this occasion, as compared with 194 in 1923, and 45 in 1922, 207 certificates were awarded, 37 in the highest grade (or 1st class), 86 in the intermediate (or 2nd class), and 84 in the junior (or beginners). The rejected candidates were mainly in the 2nd and 3rd grades, 14 having failed in the 1st Class Tests, and 5 in the Beginners' Tests.

Much of the credit for the continued success of the Leinster Branch efforts along this excellent line is due to Dr. Beckett, the President, who has directed and controlled the examinations since their inception three years ago. A welcome addition to the list of competing schools is Mountjoy School, whose representatives did extremely well in the tests, as they did in the Leinster Senior Polo. Belvedere College took its usual prominent place in the examinations. The successful candidates were :—

First Class Certificates—J. Wallace, E. Levin, G. W. Robertson (St. Andrew's College); E. H. D. Jenkins and T. P. Kelly (St. Columba's College); R. S. Baskin, F. G. Bestall, R. L. Bryson, H. Burchill, H. C. Ewen, J. J. Lenehan, A. G. Mason, J. P. Mullen, J. Murray ..... O. Rowe, J. Sheridan and N. W. W. Smith (High School); S. R. Sheare and L. Phillips (Public Cathedral School); C. J. Williams, J. H. Smyth, C. Pack, T. W. Atchmuty, E. W. Case, H. Sheppard, W. N. Anderson, and H. Butler (Mountjoy School); V. P. McAllister, C. Carroll, T. Sheridan, F. Smith, P. Kirwan, M. Steer, J. Owens, H. Styles, and E. Plunkett (Belvedere College).

THE WARD UNION.

Favoured by continued fine weather, these hounds held a very successful meet at Donaghmore Cross roads on Saturday last, when a fairly large field, including many who had attended the Fingal Hunt Ball, were present. Bolstering by the invitation of Mr. J. R. Clarke at Robertstown is a grand country, a very nice hunt started by way of Milltown to the Mayhenon Cross, where, swinging right-handed and favoured by a serving scent the pack ran fast by Johnstown, and through the wide pastures of Palmerstown to the back of the old churchyard. Crossing the road here into the Northlands, they ran on over a very formidable line of fences to Greenogue, where the stag sailed in the Broadmeadow river, and being hunted away quickly found a safer sanctuary in Mr. William Ward's farmyard at Fieldstown, after a sharp gallop of 35 minutes.

An outlying bird from the opening day, reported to be in the Kilteade direction, now claimed attention, and the field were rewarded after a half-hour's jog by a quick find on Mrs. Lumley's farm at Dardistown. Getting away to good terms, the hounds ran hard in full cry to the Wootton, before bearing to the left by Fosterstown and Balfestown to Kilrue. Here the quarry, after ringing about for some time, finally went away over the Kilrue lane by the fox covert, incidentally throwing most of the field out, and kept a straight course by Peacockstown and The Paddocks to Moulden Bridge. Closely pressed by hounds through Tankardstown, the hind was brought to bay in the stream at Jamestown, where the hounds were lucky enough to get up quickly enough to save a gallant beast, concluding a really good day.

THE KILDARE HOUNDS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

The doings at Narraghmore village on Thursday last need not be dwelt on, as it was a day more typical of sub-hunting than anything else. Of a leash in Narraghmore at least a brace got to ground in the same hole, after which Bull Hill was unaccountably blank, though it held quite a lot of cubs on a previous occasion. The remainder of the day was spent in plenty of good hound work in and around Ballymore Eustace, while it always difficult to get a fox away from.

On Saturday a very representative field of both Kildare

DUBLIN.

IDLE MARKETS IN VIEW OF APPROACHING SETTLEMENT. "CASHEL" RAILS SCARCE. BANK STOCK BETTER. RADIO STRENGTH.

The Dublin Stock and Share Markets were generally quietly dull under the influence of the approaching Settlement, of which the 20th inst. will be "the account" day. Government National Loan was pressed back to 92. British Funds were also dull, but business was limited. Among Banking Securities Bank Stocks had a recovering tendency, but other bank shares slipped back a trifle in some cases. Guinness shares and J. Jameson and Son Debs. were both buyers, but Dublin Distillers were weaker. Marconi Ord. were weak, but there was no market this side. Radio Corporation Shares on the other hand further advanced strongly. Home Rails were quietly firm. "Cashel" Stocks were scarce, and closed wanted sometimes at enhanced levels. Dublin United Trams Shares were steady. Dunlop Rubber Shares were bid for. Parent Tyres were idle all day, but a few Def. realised 4/3s. Gas, Bakery, Drapery, and Miscellaneous Securities were quite idle. Dealing in Manufacturing Shares was limited, but pretty general in market favourites. Drummond and Sons Pref. rallied several shillings.

Government National 5 p.c. Loan fell ¼ to 92, and Compensation 5 p.c. ½ to 90.

In British Funds, War Loan 5 p.c. rose ¼ to 101⅞ and then eased to 101¼, but Victory Bonds fell ¼ to 93, and Conversion 3½ p.c. ⅛ to 79. Guaranteed 2½ p.c. Land Stock realised 56½.

In Banks, Bank of Ireland Stock rallied ⅜ to 268, but Munster and Leinsters fell ⅛ to 6⅝, and Nationals ⅛ to 20¾, while Hibernians repeated 7⅛.

As regards Breweries and Distilleries, Guinness Ord. repeated 49⅛, but the Pref. rose ⅛ to 11¾. J. Jameson and Son Debs. also rose ⅛ to 71¾, while Dublin Distillers Ord. fell 1s. to 27s.

Marconi Ord. were called 32s., 33s. unofficially, but Radio Common rose ¼ to 7⅞.

Among Home Rails, Great Southern and Western Ord. rose ½ to 39, and the Pref. 2 to 51 to 54 nominally, while the Debs. repeated 68½ and then fell to 53. Great Northern Pref. improved ½ to 57⅜, and Dublin and South Eastern Pref. closed nominally ¼ better at 42, 43. Midland Great Western ¼ pc. Debs. again realised 63¾. Great Western of England realised 110⅛. London and North Eastern Preferred Ord. 82, Ditto Deferred Ord. 30½, Ditto 2nd Pref. 80¾, and Southern Preferred Ord. 85¾. Great Northern (Ireland) Guaranteed repeated 59 at the later market.

In Trams, Dublin United Ord. repeated 6½, but the Pref. recovered ⅛ to 9¼.

Dunlop Rubber Ord. realised 10s. 6d., 10s. 7½d. The Reduction of Capital Scheme is to come before the Court to-day in London for official sanction. There is no opposition to the proposal to write down the Capital from 20s. to 6s. 8d. per share, a total reduction of 13s. 4d. per share, the shareholders having already approved of the reduction and compromise as regards arrears due on the Preference Shares of the Company. Parent Tyre Deferred realised 4⅜. for an odd lot.

With reference to Manufacturing Shares, Cottons rose 6d. to 59s. 9d., but the Pref. fell 3d. to 19s. 4½d. Bleachers fell 3d. to 68s. 9d. Bradford Dyers 3d. to 35s. 6d., and Coats 1½d. to 64s. Spinners rose 56s. 3d. British-American Tobacco repeated 110s. 6d., but Imperials fell 6d. to 73s. 7½d., 83s. 9d., and ditto of Canada 3d. to 28s. 1½d. Brunner Mond Shares realised 38s. x.d. Lever Bros. 7 p.c. and 8 p.c. Pref both fetched 21s. 4½d. Vickers further eased back to 11s. 7½d., 11s. 6d. Courtaulds were 3d. better at 58s. 4½d., and the Pref. closed 13s. 9d. to 18s. 10½d.

In Trading, etc., Shares, E. and J. Burke Pref. repeated 76s., but the Debs. rose ⅛ to 84. Drummond and Sons Pref. rose 3s. 4½d. to 52s. 6d. for an odd lot.

LONDON STOCKS QUIET

A MARCONI RUMOUR.

The London Stock markets had an irregular appearance yesterday, largely owing to the final phase of the account, there being a little liquidation here and there by those unable to contango their commitments. The general undertone was fairly firm, however, while a number of interesting features obtained. A rumour that the remaining £1,500,000 of Debs. was about to be offered caused Marconis to sag slightly; the Ord. and Pref. both finished 1s. 3d. lower, but the Debs. put on 1½ to 105½. British Funds were quiet. A tendency to lower prices was evident at the commencement, but later they rallied, and as a rule week-end quotations were repeated at the finish. Conversions were inclined to droop, and at the finish the 3½ p.c. marked a decrease of ¼ to 79⅛, while the 4½ p.c., although unchanged, showed a weaker tendency. Indias were quiet.

Colonial Government Stocks were steady and generally without change. Nigeria 5 p.c. were quoted x.d. at 113.

Among the Scrips, German 7 p.c. were 35½, while Queensland 5 p.c. moved up to 21⅛. South Africa 5 p.c. finished steady at 1 prem. after touching 1⅛ at one time. Newspapers improved. A good business was put through in "Mirror" Ord. and at the close a small increase was registered. Associated Def. and "Sunday Pictorial" Ord. were also both higher. Brunner Monds finished lower on the day, while Tobacco issues weer also down.

FOREIGN BONDS STEADY.

Foreign Government Stocks were extremely quiet, but a firm tone was maintained. Argentines and Brazilians were both steady and unchanged. Despite a further drop in the franc, French Loans were fairly steady and the final quotations were the same as before. German Bonds were inclined to droop. Chinese and Japanese remained unchanged, while Mexicans also repeated previous prices. Peruvians were steady. Portuguese 3 p.c. shed a point to 26. Uruguay 3½ p.c., on the other hand, closed ¼d. to the good at 60½ x.d.

BRITISH RAILS HARDER.

A slightly harder tendency was manifest in Home Rails, but final prices were not affected to any extent. Southern Def. Ord. were in good demand and finished the day at 43¼, or ¼ better than Friday's lest, while the new 5 p.c. Pref. were 1¼ prem. Great Westerns and Midlands remained at former quotations, while North-Easterns, although firm, were unchanged.

FOREIGN RAILS DULL.

Colonial and Foreign Rails were dull and final quotations were generally lower. "Canpacs" remained at their lower level of 155, while Grand Trunks also showed no alteration on the day's business. Antofagasta Ord. dropped a point to 89, while Argentine Great Western at 81 x.d. were also a point down. Entre Rios Ord. lost ¼ to 26½, but the 5 p.c. Cum. Pref. were without alteration at 83. B.A. issues were all lower. Great Southern at 86 and the Westerns at 80 were both a point lower, while the Pacific closed ½ down at 81¼. Central Argentine at 74¼ were a point below the week-end quotation. Mexican Rails were quiet and unchanged, but the National 2nd Pref. at 2 showed an increase of ¼ on the day. Leopoldina gave way and finished ½ lower at 30; San Paulo Ord. at 156¾ and United Havana at 89 were 4 points and 4 lower respectively.

RUBBER SHARES DULL.

The amount of business transacted in the Rubber share market yesterday was small, while a weaker tone was manifest. Dealings for the most part commenced at a slightly lower level than the previous close, and in the majority of instances dropped further back. A fairly long list of alterations was recorded at the finish, and while a few issues were the turn higher the majority were distinctly lower on the day's business. Anglo-Sumatra were quiet, but a much improved tone was in evidence, and at the finish an increase of 4s. 3d. was marked to 57s. 6d. Sialang and Kapar Para were both 7½d. better to 25s. 6d. and 40s. General Ceylon put on 4½d. to 42s. 4½d. Lanadron, on the other hand, dropped back rather heavily, the final price being 2s. 3d. lower at 21s. 3d. P.P.K. Ceylon lost 1s. 6d. to 20s., while Membakut at 13s. 9d. and Pegoh at 57s. 6d. were both 1s. 3d. lower on the day's business. Golden Hope lost 1s. 6d. to 22s. 6d., while Rubber Trust at 33s. 2½d. were 9½d. down. Anglo-Dutch and Bah Lias at 44s. and 45s. respectively were both 9d. lower, while Ampat dropped 2d. to 3s. 9d. Linggi shed 1s. to 37s. 6d., while Malacca Ord. at 34s. 9d. closed 7½d. down. Malayalam ruled steady and unchanged on the day, but the New shares lost 9d. to 4s. 3d. Eastern Trust fell 4½d. to 16s. 6d., while Cheviot at 3s. 1½d., and Bukit Sembawang at 2s. were 1½d. and a penny lower. The price of rubber was easier at 17½d. per lb.

OIL MARKET IRREGULAR.

Oil shares failed to present any outstanding features of interest yesterday, business generally being of a quiet character, and prices, which for the most part moved within comparatively narrow limits, had an irregular appearance at the close. A possible reason for the quietness of the market was that the preliminaries in connection with the carry-over were in progress. These revealed strong givers on Y.O.C. Holdings and Phœnix, while Burmahs and Tankers Prefs. were also givers. Otherwise there was not much in the position either way. The report of the Anglo-Persian Oil Company was regarded favourably, the statements in regard to the progress made since the commencement of the current year in particular creating a good impression. Nevertheless, the shares, in common with most other leading counters, developed an easier tendency. The two Pref issues, however, continued to display firmness; Burmahs weakened in sympathy with Anglo-Persians, but they finished above the worst. Following a quiet business, Shells registered a decline, and Royal Dutch also weakened. Transactions in Mexican Eagles were of little importance, and the Ord. shares were finally unaltered, but the 7 p.c. Prefs. met with a little support and improved. Anglo-Americans hardened. Among Venezuelans the British Controlled issues received a good deal of attention and finished at an advance. Some fairly heavy lines of option stock came on the market, particularly the Common shares, but these were readily absorbed. Trinidad issues remained uninteresting, and in a few cases lower prices were quoted. Transactions in Rumanians failed to influence quotations. In other directions Lobitos continued on the dull side, and nevertheless showed an appreciable loss on the day, Anglo-Ecuadorians weakening in sympathy. Anglo-Egyptians "B" further receded.

TEA SHARES STRONG.

The better tone noticeable on Friday last was again in evidence. Prices generally opened at a slightly better level than the previous close, and in a lot of cases moved further up. Dealings were on a larger scale than has been the case for some time past, especially in the leaders. At the finish a long list of alterations was recorded, and while a few issues closed slightly lower on the day's business, others left off appreciably higher. Assam Dooars and Consolidated Tea and Lands were again well to the fore. The former closed 1½ higher, while the latter put on a point. There were many other good improvements marked.

INDUSTRIALS FAIRLY BUSY.

Although at the commencement of business in the Miscellaneous and Industrial Markets yesterday there was a good deal of hesitancy in evidence, a harder tendency developed towards the close. Quite a fair turnover was experienced, while dealers reported a considerable number of inquiries. To-day's cargo position is expected to be a large one. Dealings commenced in Spillers Milling Notes at round 1½ prem., and the lists for the £1,500,000 5 p.c. First Mortgage Debs., of Lewis, Ltd., were closed at 12 o'clock owing to over-subscription. Except for Thomas Tillings, which gave way to 50s., Motor Shares exhibited strength. Rolls Royce continued in demand and further advanced to 30s., or 1s. 6d. higher, while Humbers put on 1s to 28s., the latter being supported on expectations of an increased dividend this week. The Marconi group had a steadier appearance, Canadas hardening to 6s. 9d. Cables, however, were lower where changed. Electrics were steady, with Bournemouth maintained at previous level. Edison Swan hardened to 6s. 3d. In the Textile market Bradford Dyers came on offer and dropped 1s. 6d. to 35s. 6d. Fine Spinners were realised, and left off with a loss of 1s. at 56s.; Listers lost 6d. at 30s., and minor declines occurred in Courtaulds to 59s., in Bleachers to 63s., and in Amalgamated Cottons to 12s. Bank Shares were well maintained. National of India rose ¼ to 46¾, and gains of ¼ were registered by Bank of British West Africa 9¾, and by National Provincial 24 at 11⅞. Lloyds hardened to 61s. 6d. National Discount "B," however, fell ¼ to 9⅜. Apart from a fall of ¼ in Commercial Unions to 22⅛, Insurances held their ground. Land Shares hardly moved. Following the satisfactory report issued over the week-end, Bieckerts continued in good request and finished another 5 higher at 163. Whitbread Debs. rose 1 to 69, and City of Londons ⅛ to 3⅛. Ashbys, on the other hand, fell ¼ to 15¾, and Buchanans dropped 1s. to 55s. 6d. Hotels remained firm at previous levels, Caterers showed few appreciable changes, and Trust Companies kept up, though Maypole Defd. eased to 5s. 9d. Brazil Coffee Shares exhibited firmness, and Nitrates were fairly steady.

Liquidation was in progress in the leading Tobaccos, E.A.T.'s being the chief sufferer, showing a fall of 1s. 6d. at the close at 108s. 6d., while Imperials lost 9d. at 83s. B. and J. Hills shed 3d. to 32s. 3d., but Godfrey Phillips came into favour and registered a gain of ⅛ at 1⅛. News shares were firm, Amalgamated Press advancing 1s. 6d. to 46s. 6d., while Associated Def. rose ⅛ to 6. In the Miscellaneous trading list, Mappin and Webb Prefs. found support and rose 9d. to 14s. 9d., and British Aluminiums strengthened to 27s. 9d. British Portland Cements hardened to 27s. 3d. ex.div., though Associateds lost 6d. at 15s. 6d. African and Easterns weakened to 36s. 6d., and Lever 8 per cent. lost the turn at 21s. 9d. Clayhills Ash and Tile Trays both dropped 6d. to 10s. 6d. and 25s. respectively. Iron, Coal and Steels presented an irregular appearance. Weardale Def. came into request and further rose to 11⅜, or 1s. 4½d. higher on the day. Another strong spot was Amalgamated Anthracites, in which big business was seen, and the shares finished better on the day at 25s. Beardmore Prefs. stiffened to 15s. On the other hand, Palmers Shipbuilding lost 6d. at 7s., as did also Mond Nickels at 45s. and Powell-Duffryns at 35s. Further realisations of Platt Bros. led to a fall of 1s. to 32s., and Hadfields receded to 9l. A few minor declines took place.
